PETITION.

Speaker Prescott presented the following petition:

SANTA CRUZ, CALIFORNIA, February 2, 1905.

To the Honorable F. C. Prescott, Speaker, and Members of the General Assembly of the State Legislature of California:

GENTLEMEN: Recognizing the fact that your valuable time should not be consumed, and that the people of the State should not be put to the great expense of investigating the false and malicious charges preferred against me as Judge of the Superior Court of Santa Cruz County by a few cowardly and disreputable conspirators who tried to defeat me at the election two years ago by circulating similar and even worse vile and malicious falsehoods, I have delayed addressing you this communication until the present time.

Yet, as these few disreputable pettifoggers and disgruntled litigants persist in willfully and knowingly slandering me by formulating pretended charges of impeachment, but their real and only purpose being to injure me by having their false and malicious slanders published in the newspapers throughout the State, I therefore most respectfully request that in order to save any member of your honorable body the deep mortification of fathering these vile slanders by offering a resolution regarding them, that the same be considered as filed with my consent, and that a committee be appointed, with full power to act, to investigate the charges made by this disreputable gang of cowardly and malicious scoundrels and notorious liars and slanderers, and if I fail to prove by the leading citizens of Santa Cruz County, and by numerous witnesses of unquestioned integrity, beyond all reasonable doubt and to the satisfaction of the committee and all other honorable persons, that the charges made are rank and malicious falsehoods, and that the authors thereof are vile and cowardly slanderers without reputable characters or standing in the county where they reside, then I will cheerfully pay all the expenses of the investigation, so that the taxpayers of the State will not be compelled to pay the same.

Being a Democrat in politics, I would further request that the entire committee be composed of disinterested Republicans, which alone would exempt Mr. Cleveland of your body from serving on said committee, he being desired as a witness.

I would further request that the investigation be had in Santa Cruz County, where my character and standing both as a judge and citizen are well known, and also where the characters of the disreputable cowards who have so unjustly and maliciously assailed me are also well known.

Awaiting your pleasure in this matter, and assuring you that I am ready to have the investigation commence at the very earliest moment possible, I remain,

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

LUCAS F. SMITH,
Judge of the Superior Court of Santa Cruz County, State of California.

That on or about December 6, 1902, said Smith told Peter P. Hartmann, a litigant, one of the parties to a case which was tried before said Smith during September and October, 1902, but in which no decision had been rendered, that he should have employed Mr. Cassin, who was a friend of said judge, and that he, said Hartmann, was very unfortunate in having a different attorney to represent him; that he, the said Smith, would be more than human should he not let his personal prejudice guide his decision.

Lucas Flattery Smith, Judge of the Superior Court of the County of Santa Cruz, State of California, at the chambers of said judge, for the purpose of asking the said Hon. Lucas Flattery Smith how soon he could render his decision in the matter of the Kohl estate, which has been on trial before him during September 17, 18, and 19, and October 6, 7, and 8, of said year 1902, and asked said judge when he could render said decision; that said Hon. Lucas Flattery Smith answered in the following words:

"I am very busy at present, as there are quite a number of cases awaiting my decision. I think you are very unfortunate, Mr. Hartmann, for having that drunken lawyer of yours (meaning Geo. P. Burke) to represent you in this case. It was him who spread those lies about me during the last campaign. You should have had another lawyer—Mr. Cassin, for instance; he is a friend of mine."

That affiant replied: "You should not let your personal prejudice guide your decisions to the detriment of any party concerned in any case, but decide the matter before you solely upon the merits of the case involved."

That said Judge replied: "In such case I would be more than human; however, I will see what I can do for you. Good day, Mr. Hartmann."

JOHN H. LEONARD.

SPECIFICATION 4

That during the month of February, 1901, after the trial and conviction, in the Superior Court of the County of Santa Cruz, of one Nathan Smith, who was convicted of assault with a deadly weapon, and by the jury recommended to the mercy of the court, and before the time set for passing sentence upon said Nathan Smith, said Lucas Flattery Smith, as said judge, requested one George B. Fletcher, the attorney who represented said Nathan Smith, during his trial, to secure from the citizens of the City of Watsonville, in the County of Santa Cruz, a petition setting forth the good character of said Nathan Smith, and petitioning said Lucas Flattery Smith, as judge of said court to sentence said Nathan Smith to as light a sentence as the law would permit. Said petition, signed and verified by more than one hundred of the said citizens, was obtained and presented to said Lucas Flattery Smith, as said judge, before the day appointed for the passing of sentence upon said Nathan Smith. That on the day appointed for the passing of sentence on said Nathan Smith, said Lucas Flattery Smith, as judge of said court, stated that he had received said petition, and would act thereon, and he would sentence said Nathan Smith to the lightest punishment which the law would permit, and thereupon he sentenced said Nathan Smith to six months in the county jail.

JOHN H. LEONARD.

See Petition in Cause No. 3593, People vs. Nathan Smith, filed February 15, 1901.

J. MARQUIS, Plaintiff,

vs.

H. E. GARDNER, Defendant.

ORDER.

This cause came on regularly for hearing on the 29th day of November, 1904, on plaintiff's motion to dismiss the appeal from the Justice's Court of Santa Cruz Judicial Township, upon the ground "that no undertaking on appeal had been filed as required by Section 978 of the Code of Civil Procedure," George F. Stanley, Esq., appearing as counsel for plaintiff, and W. P. Netherton, Esq., for the defendant. Whereupon witnesses on the part of plaintiff and defendant were duly sworn and examined, and documentary evidence introduced by plaintiff, and the cause, after argument by respective counsel, was submitted to the court for consideration and decision; and after due deliberation thereon, the court finds: That a judgment was rendered and entered in the Justice's Court of Santa Cruz Judicial Township on October 12, 1904, for the sum of $106.00, in favor of plaintiff herein; that on November 2, 1904, defendant herein served and filed in the said Justice's Court a notice of appeal to the Superior Court; that on November 2, 1904, said defendant deposited with Harry J. Bias, Esq., a Justice of the Peace of said Justice's Court, the sum of $50.00 in gold coin; that on November 7, 1904, the transcript on appeal, together with $50.00 in gold coin, were delivered to Harvey H. Wherefore, By reason of the law and the finding aforesaid, it is hereby ordered and adjudged that the appeal herein from the Justice's Court be and it is hereby dismissed, and the judgment of the lower court affirmed.

And it is further ordered that the sum of $106.00, gold coin, deposited with H. H. Miller, Clerk of this Court, in lieu of an undertaking on appeal of this action, be paid by said Clerk to the plaintiff in satisfaction of the judgment appealed from.

D. 1904, and after the conclusion of the trial of said Louis Buelna, and before the time set for the sentencing of said Louis Buelna, affiant had a conversation with said Hon. Lucas Flattery Smith, at his chambers, in the court house in the City of Santa Cruz, in which said Hon. Lucas Flattery Smith made the following statement: "Mrs. Buelna, I pity you very much, and I promise you I will do all within my power for your boy; keep very quiet, don't say a word to any one, and tell your boy not to ask for a new trial, and I will sentence him very lightly"; that affiant, relying upon said promises of said judge, informed her said son, Louis Buelna, of the statements made by said Hon. Lucas Flattery Smith, and advised him, her said son, Louis Buelna, to not ask for a new trial, upon which advice, and by reason of the said promises of said Hon. Lucas Flattery Smith, said Louis Buelna, in open court, waived the right to move for a new trial, and agreed that sentence be passed upon him, whereupon said Hon. Lucas Flattery Smith, judge of said court, disregarding the promises made by him to affiant, sentenced said Louis Buelna, the son of this affiant, to ninety years in the State Prison at San Quentin.

JAMES O. WANZER,
Notary Public in and for said County of Santa Cruz.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
COUNTY OF SANTA CRUZ. } ss.

Wm. M. Aydelotte, being first duly sworn, upon oath, states as follows:

That he is affiant herein. That on the ——— day of November, 1904, one Louis Buelna was convicted of a statutory crime, by a jury, in the Superior Court of said county; that Chas. C. Houck and Duncan McPherson, Jr., were the attorneys appointed by Lucas Flattery Smith, Judge, to defend said Buelna; that a substitution of attorneys, of which the following is a copy, was duly signed by the persons whose names appear thereon, and filed in said Superior Court.

In the Superior Court of the County of Santa Cruz, State of California.

The People of the State of California }
vs. } Substitution of Attorneys.
Louis Buelna. }

I, the undersigned defendant in the above entitled cause, do hereby substitute William M. Aydelotte as attorney for defendant herein, in the place and stead of Duncan McPherson, Jr., and Charles C. Houck, Esqs.

November 15, 1904.

LOUIS BUELNA, Defendant.

We hereby consent to the above substitution this 15th day of November, 1904.

DUNCAN MCPHERSON, JR.
CHAS. C. HOUCK.

I hereby accept the above substitution this 15th day of November, 1904.

WM. M. AYDELLOTTE.

(Endorsed:) Filed November 15, 1904. H. H. Miller, Clerk.

That upon obtaining said substitution, affiant immediately notified the District Attorney and said Judge Smith, and secured a continuance from Friday, November 18, 1904, until the following Monday, November 21, 1904, so as to enable affiant to duly prepare for making a motion for a new trial for said Buelna before sentence was pronounced;

That affiant went to San Francisco, California, on Wednesday, November 16, 1904, and did not return until Monday, November 21, 1904;

That from and after said 15th day of November, 1904, affiant was the only duly authorized attorney of record for said Buelna;

That on Friday morning, November 18, 1904, without notice or knowledge of affiant and during the absence of affiant, said Lucas Flattery Smith, judge, without right and justice, and in violation of the common principles of law, justice, morals, and ethics which should govern the conduct of an upright and impartial judge, sentenced said Buelna to ninety years in the State Prison;

That, in consultation with said Houck, McPherson, and affiant, said Buelna stated, after being fully advised by said Houck, McPherson, and affiant, that he had everything to gain and nothing to lose by a new trial, that he desired affiant to properly move for a new trial so that an appeal might be properly taken to the Supreme Court;

That said Buelna was fully advised by said Houck, McPherson, and affiant, that the treatment he had received at the hands of said Smith was outrageous, that the record contained many reversible errors, and that without doubt the Supreme Court would reverse the case and grant said Buelna a new trial;

That affiant did not see said Buelna after November 15, 1904;

That on Monday, November 21, 1904, affiant called at the chambers of said Smith and the following conversation, in substance and effect, took place:

Smith: "Good morning, Mr. Aydelotte. Your man Buelna went back on you and concluded not to ask for a new trial and asked that sentence be pronounced."

Aydelotte: "Good morning, Judge. I am not so sure that he went back on me, but am constrained to believe that some evil influence has been at work."

Smith: "Oh, no. He asked to be sentenced."

Aydelotte: "And was deprived of his counsel's advice and assistance. However, since affairs have taken that course I will have nothing further to do with the case unless I am called on again."

Smith: "Well, Mr. Aydelotte, that is a nasty case, and you could not afford to have anything to do with it." (This with great emphasis.)

Aydelotte: "I don't care how nasty it is, Judge. I would never be dishonest and cowardly enough to throw down a man whose case I accepted."

Smith: "I understand he was taken away this morning."

Aydelotte: "Yes, before I could consult with him. Good day, Judge."

Smith: "Good day."

That, upon the above and foregoing facts, and upon reading the affidavit of Frances Buelna, and upon much more which affiant has a right to suspect, affiant verily believes that said Judge Smith used his influence wilfully and maliciously, utterly disregarding every principle of justice, to prevent said Buelna from obtaining a new trial or an appeal in his case.

SPECIFICATION 10.

That said Lucas Flattery Smith has been guilty of oppression and tyranny in his office, incorrectly and oppressively and without just cause imprisoning one P. E. Zabala and one J. J. Wyatt upon feigned, fictitious, and false charges of contempt of his said court.

JOHN H. LEONARD.

Note: See attached copy of decision of Supreme Court of California, discharging the above named Zabala and Wyatt on habeas corpus, marked 10 A.

(10 A.—Crim. No. 1207. In Bank. December 5, 1904. In Chambers of the Chief Justice.)

Ex parte P. E. Zabala and J. J. Wyatt on habeas corpus.

Application for a writ of habeas corpus prayed to be directed against H. V. Trafton, Sheriff of Santa Cruz County. For petitioners, C. F. Lacey.

The petitioners were in the custody of the sheriff, under an order adjudging them guilty of a contempt of court. It is conceded that the return to the writ does not sustain the jurisdiction of the court to make the order. The petitioners are discharged from custody.

BEATTY, C. J.

(10 A.—Copy Decision of Supreme Court.)

(Surf, November 12, 1904.)

A RELENTING MOOD.

The "Surf's" attention has been called to a statement in the alleged morning paper anent the case of attorneys Wyatt and Zabala. It says: "Judge Smith, being in a somewhat relenting mood, told the sheriff to release them, although the proceedings were not quite regular."

Judge Smith commenced to "relent," as expected, when he heard the matter had been taken to the Supreme Court. The attorneys put up cash to secure their release from custody.

Judge Smith is always in a "relenting" mood on fines. This disposition dates back to the time he was fined $25 for contempt of court, as an attorney, for an assault upon the late Edgar Spalsbury, which remains unsatisfied on the records.

AN OUTRAGE AGAINST WOMANHOOD AND COMMON DECENCY.

Against the plea of the attorneys on both sides of the case, Judge Smith has refused to close the doors of the court room during the trial of the Buelna rape case.

The prosecutrix, a woman who has suffered to the limit possible for her sex, was compelled to repeat her testimony before a court room crowded full of masculine curiosity mongers, whose possible favor was regarded by the court as more important than the dictates of manly chivalry or the demands of common decency.

COURTS AND CONSTITUTIONS.

One L. F. Smith, Judge of the Superior Court, in the alleged morning paper, says:

"The Supreme Court, in construing the Constitution, holds that it is an error for the Superior Court to exclude the public in any criminal trial."

Once upon a time another rape case was tried in this court when there was an able, independent, highminded judge on the bench. One L. F. Smith was attorney for the defendant. The judge ordered the case heard behind closed doors, although the details of the case were wholesome in comparison with the one now on trial.

L. F. Smith's client was convicted and sent to prison.

Why did not L. F. Smith, attorney, secure a new trial for his client, on the error of the judge in excluding the public from the court room?

CONTEMPT OF COURT.

TWO PROMINENT ATTORNEYS OF SALINAS SUFFERING FROM THE DISFAVOR OF THE SUPERIOR COURT.

At the arraignment of Buelna, the rape fiend, J. J. Wyatt and P. Zabala, attorneys of Salinas, appeared for the defense, but yesterday when the case was called for trial they were not present.

Judge Smith ordered a citation issued for their appearance. When they came into court this morning the judge ordered them to assist in the defense of the prisoner. They declined to do so on the ground that they were not members of the Santa Cruz county bar, and could not be compelled to defend the prisoner without compensation.

Whereupon the court fined them $50 each for contempt of court and remanded them to the custody of the sheriff until paid.

The beleaguered lawyers wired a friend in Salinas of their position, and this afternoon Hon C. F. Lacey of that city left for San Francisco to bring the matter before the Supreme Court on a writ of habeas corpus.

The opinion about the court house is that when the judge learns that the matter is going before the Supreme Court he will remit the fine and discharge the attorneys, who are now in durance vile.

Messrs. Zabala and Wyatt are among the most prominent members of the bar in Monterey County, and the affair has created quite a stir in Salinas.

SPECIFICATION 11.

That said Lucas Flattery Smith, through ignorance, incompetence, favoritism, partiality, willful disregard of facts, and permitting attorneys and litigants privately, in chambers and out, to freely discuss causes before decision thereon, has wrongfully and incorrectly decided a great percentage of the cases tried before him, as is evidenced by the fact that about fifty per cent of the civil cases appealed to the Supreme Court from his judgment, and about seventy-five per cent of the criminal cases appealed to the Supreme Court from the decisions of said Lucas Flattery Smith, have been reversed by the Supreme Court, at great expense to litigants and to the people of the State of California.

Judges Logan and McCann had 77 appeals in 17 years and Judge Smith has had 57 in 5½ years. Logan and McCann had 1 criminal case reversed and 6 affirmed; Smith had 1 affirmed and 6 reversed. Logan and McCann had an average of one in three cases reversed (the average all over the United States), and Smith had one in two, or 13 cases out of 26 reversed.

There were 252 cases tried by Judge Smith during the 5½ years he has been on the bench, in which there was a contest, and which might have been taken to the Supreme Court, provided the litigants had money to do so, and, provided further, Smith did not "doctor" the record; 14 contested cases were removed to other counties, and 89 cases are yet undisposed of. All others were either appeals from the justices' courts—which are not appealable to a higher court—or dismissed by the parties, or no contest filed.

SPECIFICATION 12.

That said Lucas Flattery Smith has been guilty of conduct unbecoming an upright and impartial judge. Under this specification are included all the charges contained in the specifications herein numbered, from one to eleven, inclusive, and also the following:

I.

Denying motion of Louis Buelna for continuance when his counsel failed to appear, and Charles C. Houck and Duncan McPherson, Esqs., were appointed by said Smith to defend said Buelna, not giving the newly appointed counsel, who were both young lawyers, any time to prepare the defense. Buelna was sentenced for ninety years.

II.

Denying the motion of Louis Buelna to have the public excluded from the trial. It was shown that public sentiment was greatly aroused over the case. (See editorial printed in Santa Cruz "Surf.")

III.

Denying motion of M. T. Langley in case of Bloom vs. Langley, for a new trial where the statement on motion for new trial, signed and certified to be correct by said Smith, shows on its face that the verdict of the jury was contrary to the evidence and in direct violation of the instructions of the court. In this case, which was won by Mr. Langley in the justice's court and appealed to the Superior Court, Mr. Cassin was employed as of counsel for Mr. Bloom when the case was tried in said Superior Court.

IV.

In giving, on all manner of occasions, both in court and out, expressions, gestures, smiles of recognition, deferential acquiescence, encouragement by look, word, and deed, signs of extreme friendliness, to and toward the warm personal friends of said Smith.

V.

Making it known by look, act, word, and deed, both in court and out, on all possible occasions, that a person who opposed the warm personal friends of said Smith is persona non grata with the said Superior Court and with said Judge Smith.

JOHN H. LEONARD.

PANDERING TO THE POPULACE.

Beneath the cupola of the court house in Santa Cruz no scene has ever been enacted as revolting to public decency, as debasing to public morals, as humiliating to all right-minded persons, as the trial of the rape case now in progress in a chamber filled by a prurient crowd of men, women, and youth.

The rudimentary instincts of chivalry that well up in the heart of the savage would make him scorn to impose upon a female of his kind the embarrassment and humiliation that the court imposed yesterday on the prosecutrix in this case.

A judge in Arizona or Idaho would blush at the suggestion of unnecessarily purveying indecencies before the public.

The alleged morning paper to-day says: "Judge Smith, in an interview Thursday evening, repudiates the insinuations made against his character 'by an obscure local sheet,' and goes on to say, 'The reason why I did not exclude spectators from the court room Thursday during the trial of Louis Buelna was because the State Constitution states explicitly that all criminal cases must be tried publicly. The Supreme Court, in construing the Constitution, holds that it is an error for the Superior Court to exclude the public in any criminal trial,' " etc., etc.

If the local court is as ignorant as it claims to be, the matter would be pitiful as well as repulsive. What the Supreme Court does say, and which Judge Smith knows—or ought to know—is this:

"Criminal Law—Constitutional Construction—Excluding Persons from Court Room—Public Trial. The provision of the Constitution, Article I, Section 13, which guarantees to every person accused of a crime the right to a public trial is not violated by an order of court excluding all persons from the court room except the judge, jurors, witnesses, and persons connected with the case, during the trial of a criminal charge. The word public in that clause of the Constitution is used in opposition to secret.

"Id.—Presumption—Assent. In the absence of any showing as to what took place when the court made an order, the appellate court will presume, in support of the action of the court below, that the defendant assented to the order."

In the present case, the defendant attorney not only consented, but solicited that the doors be closed.

We cannot find in the dictionary a word to express the sense of shame and outrage which right-minded people feel at the added indignities heaped upon this suffering girl by the court.

Aside from this aspect of the matter, only contempt and disgust can be felt for one in high position who would thus deliberately pander to the vulgar curiosity of the crowd

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

A COURT-ROOM SCENE WHICH WAS NO CREDIT TO SANTA CRUZ NOR THE COURT.

(Surf, November 12, 1904.)

Editor "Surf": Your words in the last issue of your paper on "Pandering to the Populace," in the trial of this heinous rape case, are certainly worth the consideration of the good-thinking people of Santa Cruz. I dropped in the court room one morning during the trial to study the situation. Before the hour came for opening court a crowd of men, especially young men, who would not be attracted by a public library or art gallery, were waiting outside as impetuously as a buzzard for carrion. It chilled me to see the character of the gang that filled up the court room. I couldn't count three representative citizens present at that time. There were drunks, those who are ever feverish to fan the fires of moral pollution, a lot of hangers-on, and some young boys, who ought to be compelled to be in school. It does seem to me that in this day of enlightenment, if a trial of this nature must be open, the officers should close the doors of the court room against certain classes. It is very evident, in this case, that the better citizens don't desire a public trial, for they are noticeable by their absence. If the trial must be public, let the officers debar the classes mentioned. The pressing need of the hour is a purer regard for woman as mother, wife, and maiden.

Yours for a purer public sentiment,

CITIZEN.

THE LAW AND THE COURT.

We have no desire to prolong comment concerning an affair now past, but in view of the defense (?) set forth in the Sentinel on Sunday morning by some friend of the Court, presumably the judge himself, in attempted justification of his action in admitting the indiscriminate public, including young girls and boys, as listeners in the trial of the Buelna rape case, we invited a legal opinion in the matter.

Any citizen can do the same and secure like information.

Our informant says: Judge Smith gives an absolutely false construction to the case of People vs. Hartman, 103 Cal. 242, which is relied upon to sustain his action. He states the law correctly, but not in point. You will find there these words:

"The appellant was convicted of an assault with the intent to commit rape, and now presents this appeal from the judgment of conviction.

"When the information had been read to the jury and the defendant's plea stated, on motion of the District Attorney, and against the objection of the defendant, the Court made an order excluding from the court room during the trial of the case all persons except the officers of the court and the defendant. This was a novel procedure, and has no justification in the law of modern times."

Bear in mind, please, against the objection of the defendant, who under our constitution is guaranteed a public trial if he wants it.

And then the Supreme Court goes on to say that the lower court had no right to do this over the objection of the defendant, who had "a right to a public trial."

In the Buelna case the defendant Buelna asked that the spectators be excluded.

Judge Smith knows this. Anybody knows it who was in the court room—and dare Judge Smith, or any one else, say that if Judge Smith had granted Buelna's request to exclude spectators that Buelna could be granted a new trial on that ground, after he had thus waived his constitutional right to public trial?

The Constitution says, Article I, Section 13: "In criminal prosecutions, in any court whatever, the party accused shall have the right to a speedy and public trial."

Judge Cooley says: "The requirement of a public trial is for the benefit of the accused," * * * and the requirement is fairly observed if, without partiality or favoritism, a reasonable proportion of the public is suffered to attend, notwithstanding that those persons whose presence could be of no service to the accused, and who would only be drawn hither by a purient curiosity, and excluded altogether."

This quotation is embodied in full in the very case Judge Smith relies on, to wit: 103 Cal. 241, and is also found quoted in full in the case of People vs. Swafford, 65 Cal. 244, relied upon by the "Surf," and which was not overruled by the case in 103 Cal. 242, as related in the "Sentinel."

In the case of People vs. Tarbox, 155 Cal. 57, the Supreme Court says, in deciding a case where the defendant requested a private examination before the committing magistrate:

"There can be no question that a defendant has the 'right' to a public examination before the committing magistrate, but under the provisions of the Penal Code above quoted he may waive that right whenever he deems it to his interest to do so."

In view of the law as it stands, why does Judge Smith try to bamboozle, deceive, and hoodwink the public by declaring that the judge had to deny Buelna's request because the Constitution of our State "provides that a person accused of a crime must be granted a 'public trial'?"

The Constitution provides no such thing, and Judge Smith knows it, or ought to know it.

Judge Smith knows, or ought to know, that a defendant in a criminal case may waive his constitutional right to a public trial, and that if he so waives his right he cannot go back on it and ask for a new trial because his request for an order excluding spectators was granted.

If all here said is not true, why did Judge Smith agree that when the prosecuting witness testified he would exclude spectators from the court room—which he did not do?

There is but one right answer to these questions—an answer which any reader can make for himself.

COURTS AND THEIR PURPOSE.

To listen to some persons talk about the rights of the public and the duties of a judge, one would suppose that courts were conducted to afford entertainment for the idle populace, and that the secondary function was to convict and punish criminals.

Criminal courts were instituted to protect the innocent.

In early days in California, as any of the pioneers can testify, there was no lack of punishment for criminals. The horse thief and the murderer, alike, both swung speedily into eternity. It was not the aid of law and the courts that was required to convict the criminal, but with a higher civilization they were instituted to protect the innocent, for lynch law as administered often fails to discriminate between the innocent and the guilty. The "right" to a public trial to-day is not the right of the public to attend the trial, but it is the right of the prisoner to the protection of public sentiment, if he feels that he has been falsely accused.

This right is one that a guilty man is usually willing to waive, for the exploitation of his crime before the crowd is a part of the penalty which he desires to escape.

That was true in the case which is now causing so much comment in Santa Cruz.

The attorneys for the prisoner, in his behalf, requested that spectators be excluded.

Freedom from the gaze of curiosity, and from the wrath of the indignant was part of the protection to which he was entitled by law.

Another phase of the matter is the protection due—not legally, but on the higher ground of chivalry—to the prosecuting witness.

In a large section of this country the crime of rape is punishable by burning at the stake, without recourse to judge or jury. The excuse offered for this summary proceeding is that the people of the South will not permit their womankind to suffer the humiliation of becoming witnesses in cases of this character. That is practically the only defense that is put up for the application of lynch law.

It may be taken for granted that there will never be another rape case tried in the Santa Cruz courts under the present judgeship. Should the crime occur, the victim will either suffer in silence or her friends will take the administration of punishment into their own hands.

The mental torture and humiliation inflicted upon the victim in this case by the court to gratify the coarse curiosity of a crowd was greater than the physical outrage from which she suffered.

Furthermore, the great crime of the court was in turning loose upon the public, through the minds of the curious and the thoughtless, a mass of impure suggestions, which, like poison, percolates through the community and permeates susceptible minds for years.

The Judge of the Superior Court is not always strenuous about the open door.

Divorce cases in this county are heard in privacy, between trains, and after dark, and at "any old time." Divorces are granted "while you wait," and sometimes before the parties in interest are aware of it—leading, in one instance, at least, to a very embarrassing situation.

It is to be regretted that the secretive influences at work in other instances could not have been applied for the protection of a friendless girl and the defense of the public morals.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Cleveland introduced the following resolutions:

(For the appointment of a committee on investigation of charges against Lucas Flattery Smith.)

WHEREAS, John H. Leonard, of the County of Santa Cruz, State of California, has presented to the Assembly of said State his memorial charging that Lucas Flattery Smith, Judge of the Superior Court of California, in and for said County of Santa Cruz, has been guilty of misdemeanors in office; and

WHEREAS, Said memorial contains specific charges supported by affidavits of a number of the citizens of Santa Cruz, and by decisions of the Supreme Court of California, and by the records of said Superior Court, and requests this honorable body to investigate said charges; and

WHEREAS, If said charges stated in said memorial be found to be true, that said judge should be dealt with according to law, and if found to be untrue, that the judicial character of said judge should be vindicated and said Superior Court be relieved from all suspicion; and

WHEREAS, It appears from said memorial and the charges therein made, and the affidavits of the citizens of said County of Santa Cruz, and the records therein referred to, that there is probable cause to believe that said Lucas Flattery Smith has been guilty of misdemeanors in office, willful misconduct and partiality, and favoritism and conduct unbecoming an upright judge; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That a committee of five members of this Assembly be appointed by the Speaker thereof to inquire into the conduct of said Lucas Flattery Smith, Judge as aforesaid of the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Santa Cruz, and to report to this House whether the said Lucas Flattery Smith has so acted in his judicial capacity or otherwise as to require the exercise of the constitutional power of this Assembly to remove him by impeachment or otherwise; and, be it further

Resolved, That for the purposes of this investigation the said committee and such sub-committee as the said committee may appoint are hereby authorized and empowered to send for persons and papers, to administer oaths, to take testimony, and to employ such clerical help and other assistance as may be necessary, and the said committee or sub-committee, while so employed, shall have full power to enforce the attendance of witnesses with a sergeant-at-arms, who shall serve the process of said committee and sub-committee, and shall execute its orders, and shall attend the sittings thereof, as ordered and directed thereby; and, be it further

Resolved, That the expenses of such investigation shall be paid out of the Contingent Fund of the Assembly.

(a) Said commissioners shall be appointed by the mayor, subject to confirmation by a majority of the council. All such appointments shall be so made that not more than two members of the board shall, at any one time, belong to the same political party. Each of said commissioners shall receive an annual salary of $3,600, payable in equal monthly installments, and shall give a bond to the city in the sum of $10,000, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office.

The term of office of the three members first appointed hereunder shall commence on the first Monday in January, 1906, and said three members shall so classify themselves by lot that one shall go out of office at the end of two years, one at the end of three years, and one at the end of four years thereafter. If any vacancy occurs, the mayor shall fill the same by appointment for the unexpired term.

Section 148. All contracts for the performance or furnishing of labor, services, materials, or supplies required for the execution of any work or service of which the board of public works has charge, superintendence or control, except public work or improvement the cost and expenses of which are to be paid by assessment upon property in proportion to frontage or benefits, shall be let and entered into in behalf of the city by the board of public works in the following manner: Every such contract shall first be authorized by resolution passed by a vote of two thirds of the members of the whole council. The board shall, except in cases of urgent necessity, as herein-after provided, within five days after the passage of the resolution authorizing such contract, cause a notice to be posted conspicuously in its office and published once in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the City of Los Angeles, inviting sealed bids for the performance of the work or service or the furnishing of the materials or supplies contemplated. Said notice shall require the bids to be filed with the board at or before a certain hour of a day not less than five days subsequent to the date of the posting and advertising of said notice, and said notice shall contain a general description of the work or service to be done and of the materials or supplies to be furnished, the time within which the work or delivery is to be commenced and when to be completed, and the amount of the bond to be given for the faithful performance of the contract, and shall refer to plans and specifications on file in the office of the board for full details and description of said work, service, materials or supplies.

Said notice shall require each bid to be accompanied by a check certified by a responsible bank, payable to the order of the president of the board, for an amount not less than five per cent of the aggregate sum of the bid, or by a satisfactory bond for the said amount and so payable, as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the proposed contract if the same is awarded to him, and the form and manner of making bids may, in all other respects, be prescribed in said notice, and no bid shall be considered unless the same is accompanied by said check or bond and is made in the prescribed form and manner. On the day and at the hour specified in the notice inviting bids the board shall meet and in open session examine and publicly declare the bids received, and shall thereupon, or at such other time as the board may then fix, award the contract to the lowest regular responsible bidder, or shall reject all bids. The board may reject any and all bids and shall reject the bid of any party who has been delinquent or unfaithful in the performance of any former contract with the city, and shall reject all bids other than that of the lowest regular responsible bidder. Upon rejecting any bids the board shall return to the proper parties the checks accompanying the rejected bids. If the successful bidder fails to enter into the contract, or to execute the bond required for the faithful performance thereof, within ten days after the same is awarded to him, then the certified check accompanying his bid shall be presented for payment and collected, and the amount thereof paid into the general funds of the city. Every contract entered into by the board shall first be approved as to form by the city attorney, and shall contain detailed specifications and plans of the work or service to be done, the manner in which it is to be performed, and the quantity and kind of materials or supplies to be used or furnished or shall refer to such specifications and plans on file in the office of the board. The contractor shall enter into and deliver to the secretary of the board a bond, in the sum named in the notice inviting bids, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract and executed by the contractor and by a responsible surety company or by two or more sufficient sureties approved by the board.

When any repairs, alterations, work or improvement shall be deemed of urgent necessity by the board a contract for the performance or furnishing of the labor, materials or supplies required therefor may be made by the board in behalf of the city, in writing or otherwise, without advertising for or inviting bids; provided, that if the contract for the furnishing of the labor, materials or supplies so required involves an expenditure of more than $500 the resolution of the council authorizing the same shall, before it takes effect, be approved by the mayor.

That section two hundred and thirty-six of the charter be amended to read as follows:

From the examinations made by the commission it shall prepare a register, in each grade or class of position in the classified civil service, other than that of unskilled laborers employed by the day, of the persons whose general average standing upon examination for such grade or class is not less than the minimum fixed by the rules of said commission, and who are otherwise eligible, and such persons shall take rank upon the register as candidates in order of their relative excellence as determined by their examinations without reference to priority of the date of examination.

The commission shall also keep a register upon which shall be entered, in the order of their application, the names of all who apply for employment in the class of unskilled laborers, and who, after such medical or physical examination as the board may prescribe, are found to be capable of performing in a satisfactory manner the duties of the occupations sought. Said appointing officer or department shall notify said commission of each position to be filled separately, and shall fill such place from the names certified to him or it by said commission therefor. The candidate thus appointed shall be employed on probation for a period to be fixed by said rules, not exceeding six months. Each candidate, unless he shall be sooner appointed or otherwise lawfully cease to be a candidate, shall be certified for appointment in the grade or class for which he is eligible not less than three times, and no candidate shall lose his place on the register by certification or rejection, except that said commission may strike off names of candidates from the register after they have remained thereon more than two years. At or before the expiration of the period of probation, the head of the department or office in which the candidate is employed, may discharge him upon assigning in writing the reasons therefor to said commission. If he is not thus discharged during the period of probation, his appointment shall be deemed complete. To prevent the stoppage of public business, or to meet extraordinary exigencies, the head of any department, or any officer or board may, under such regulations as the commission may by its rules prescribe, make temporary appointments in the classified civil service, to remain in force not exceeding sixty days, and only until regular appointment, under the provisions of this article, can be made.

Section 255. Whenever it shall be provided by law that any of the duties now performed or hereafter to be performed by any officer or officers of the City of Los Angeles may be performed by any officer or officers of the County of Los Angeles, the City of Los Angeles may, by ordinance ratified by vote of the qualified electors of the city as hereinafter prescribed, provide that the duties of such city officer or officers, or any of such duties as are now permitted by law to be performed by such county officer or officers, may be performed by such county officer or officers of the County of Los Angeles at the times and in the manner and to the extent provided for by law. In case by such ordinance all the duties of an officer of the city are devolved upon an officer of the county, then upon the taking effect of such ordinance such city officer shall cease to exist while such ordinance remains in force, but shall be revived by the repeal of such ordinance; and if by such ordinance only a part of the duties of an officer are so devolved, then the remaining duties thereof shall be performed by such officer as may be designated for that purpose by such ordinance, and the office shall cease to exist while such ordinance remains in effect, but shall be revived by the repeal of such ordinance. As to all duties so performed by any county officer, he shall be ex-officio an officer of the City of Los Angeles. All provisions of this charter in conflict herewith or with the provisions of such law, or with such ordinance, shall be suspended during the time that such ordinance remains in force and effect.

Section 256. No ordinance passed pursuant to the last preceding section shall take effect until it shall have been submitted for ratification by the voters of the city at a general municipal or special election and ratified by a majority of all votes cast on the question of such ratification. No such ordinance shall be repealed or amended until the repealing or amending ordinance shall have been submitted for ratification by the voters of such city at a general municipal or special election and ratified by a majority of all votes cast on the question of such ratification.

That subdivision (7) of Section 2 of the charter be amended to read as follows:

(7) To provide for supplying the city and its inhabitants with water and gas, or either, or with other means of heat, illumination or power; and to acquire or construct and to lease or operate, and to regulate the construction or operation of conduits or of railroads or other means of transit or transportation, and of plants and equipments for the production or transmission of gas, electricity, heat, refrigeration or power, in any of their forms, by pipes, wires or other means; and to incur a bonded indebtedness for any of such purposes; provided, the question of the issue of bonds therefor shall first be submitted to the qualified electors of the city at a special or general election, and that three fifths of the votes cast on the question of said issue of bonds shall have been cast in favor thereof.

That Section 2 of the charter be amended by adding a subdivision to be numbered (25) and to read as follows:

(25) No franchise, right or privilege in, on, through, across, under or over any street, avenue, alley, bridge, viaduct or other public place, and no other franchise whatever granted by the city to any corporation, association or individual, shall be granted except by an ordinance passed by vote of two thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) of the whole council, nor for a longer period than twenty-one years. Such grant and any contract in pursuance thereof shall provide that at the option of the city, declared not more than three (3) years nor less than six months before the termination of such grant, the plant and property, if any, belonging to or used by the grantee, or his or its successors in interest, in the streets, avenues and other public places shall, at the termination of said grant, upon the payment of a fair valuation thereof, be and become the property of the city; but the grantee shall be entitled to no payment because of any valuation derived from the franchise. Provided, however, that such option shall not be exercised unless at the time of exercising the same the city shall be authorized and empowered to acquire and operate such plant and property. Every grant shall specify the mode of determining any valuation therein provided for and the time and mode of payment, and shall make adequate provision by way of forfeiture of the grant or otherwise to secure efficiency of public service at reasonable rates and the maintenance of the property in good order throughout the term of the grant.

WHEREAS, Said proposed amendments were, and each of them was, published for 20 days in a daily newspaper, printed and published in said city, and of general circulation therein, to wit, the "Los Angeles Daily Times," said publication ending on the 23d day of October, 1904; and

WHEREAS, Thereafter the city council of said city did, by an ordinance known as Ordinance No. 10,177 (New Series), which was duly adopted on the 21st day of November, 1904, order the holding of a general municipal election in said City of Los Angeles on the 5th day of December, 1904, (at least 40 days after the publication of said proposed amendments for 20 days in said daily newspaper of general circulation in said City of Los Angeles, to wit, "The Los Angeles Daily Times,") and did provide in said ordinance for the submission of said proposed amendments to the said charter to the qualified electors of said city for their ratification at said general municipal election, which said ordinance was approved by the mayor of said city on the 22d day of November, 1904, and was published for at least ten days prior to the time appointed for the holding of said election in "The Los Angeles Daily Times," a daily newspaper printed and published in said city; and

WHEREAS, At said election a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon voted in favor of the ratification of and did ratify each and all of said proposed amendments to said charter; and

WHEREAS, The city council of said City of Los Angeles, at a special meeting thereof held within 10 days after said election, duly canvassed the returns of said election, and duly found, determined, and declared that a majority of such qualified electors, voting thereon, had voted for and ratified each and all of the said proposed amendments to said charter; and

(i) The board of public works shall, subject to such civil service regulations as are now or may hereafter be in force, appoint and employ, and for good cause remove, such superintendents, inspectors, clerks, and employes as the city council shall, by ordinance from time to time, prescribe, and the board shall establish all necessary rules and regulations for the exercise of the powers conferred in this article, for the government of the department of public works, and for the regulation and conduct of its officers and employes and may require of any or all of such officers and employes, except laborers, adequate bonds for the faithful performance of their respective duties.

5. Of the disposal of garbage, sewage, and street refuse.

6. Of all public utilities that are now or may hereafter be owned, controlled or operated by the city, other than water works.

Section 147. Section 148. All contracts for the performance or furnishing of labor, services, materials, or supplies required for the execution of any work or service of which the board of public works has charge, superintendence or control, except public work or improvement the cost and expenses of which are to be paid by assessment upon property in proportion to frontage or benefits, shall be let and entered into in behalf of the city by the board of public works in the following manner: Every such contract shall first be authorized by resolution passed by a vote of two-thirds of the members of the whole council. The board shall, except in cases of urgent necessity, as hereinafter provided, within five days after the passage of the resolution authorizing such contract, cause a notice to be posted conspicuously in its office and published once in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the City of Los Angeles, inviting sealed bids for the performance of the work or service or the furnishing of the materials or supplies contemplated. Such notice shall require the bids to be filed with the board at or before a certain hour of a day not less than five days subsequent to the date of the posting and advertising of said notice, and said notice shall contain a general description of the work or service to be done and of the materials or supplies to be furnished, the time within which the work or delivery is to be commenced and when to be completed, and the amount of the bond to be given for the faithful performance of the contract, and shall refer to plans and specifications on file in the office of the board for full details and description of said work, service, materials or supplies.

Said notice shall require each bid to be accompanied by a check certified by a responsible bank, payable to the order of the president of the board, for an amount not less than five percent of the aggregate sum of the bid, or by a satisfactory bond for the said amount and so payable, as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the proposed contract if the same is awarded to him, and the form and manner of making bids may, in all other respects, be prescribed in said notice, and no bid shall be considered unless the same is accompanied by said check or bond and is made in the prescribed form and manner. On the day and at the hour specified in the notice inviting bids the board shall meet and in open session examine and publicly declare the bids received, and shall thereupon, or at such other time as the board may then fix, award the contract to the lowest regular responsible bidder, or shall reject all bids. The board may reject any and all bids and shall reject the bid of any party who has been delinquent or unfaithful in the performance of any former contract with the city, and shall reject all bids other than that of the lowest regular responsible bidder. If the successful bidder fails to enter into the contract, or to execute the bond required for the faithful performance thereof, within ten days after the same is awarded to him, the certified check accompanying his bid shall be presented for payment and collected, and the amount paid into the general funds of the city. Every contract entered into by the board shall first be approved as to form by the city attorney, and shall contain detailed specifications and plans of the work or service to be done, the manner in which it is to be performed, and the quantity and kind of materials or supplies to be used or furnished, or shall refer to such specifications and plans on file in the office of the board. When any repairs, alterations, work or improvement shall be deemed of urgent necessity by the board a contract for the performance or furnishing of the labor, materials or supplies required therefor may be made by the board in behalf of the city, in writing or otherwise without advertising for or inviting bids; provided that if the contract for the furnishing of the labor, materials or supplies so required involves an expenditure of more than $500 the resolution of the council authorizing the same shall before it takes effect be approved by the mayor.

ON PUBLIC BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS.

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, February 6, 1905.

MR. SPEAKER: Your Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds visited the State Normal School at San Diego, California, January 25, 1905.

We found the school under good management (Professor Samuel T. Black being in charge), and in a prosperous condition. The attendance at present being about 387 pupils. To improve the grounds according to plans prepared by Parson & Cook, landscape gardeners, of New York, it will be necessary to expend in the year 1905 the sum of $4,000, and the year 1906, $2,000, and to make the necessary connection with the city sewer system, according to the city engineer's estimate, it will take $900, and to build walks and curbing, which are actually necessary and required by the city ordinance, it will take over $3,000. We believe these improvements are absolutely necessary, and should be provided for without delay. The building is in good repair, being one of the handsomest and most practical buildings from an architectural point of view in the State, costing $103,000, and the campus, of seventeen and a fraction of acres, was donated by the people of San Diego, and is now valued at about $50,000. The location is most beautiful and healthful, and we consider it an ideal place for an educational institution as the climate of San Diego is so equable and the moral surroundings are good.

MR. SPEAKER: Your Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds visited the State Normal School at Los Angeles, and make the following report:

We visited the school and made a thorough investigation. The superintendent very kindly showed us all over the school and showed us all the buildings, and explained in every way the needs of the school.

The school is situated in the resident district of Los Angeles. The superintendent contends that the location is undesirable, for the reason that the grounds are, and always have been, a highway for a large number of people, mostly transient, who live in the vicinity, and the annoyance occasioned by this circumstance is very great. In the daytime they cannot close their grounds, and to do so at night would incur an expense of several thousand dollars. A watchman is employed at night, but he claims this is not sufficient protection. He claims the gardens have been destroyed repeatedly, and experiments in connection with nature study, elementary science, and agriculture destroyed. He says improper characters, drunken loafers and tramps, have to be driven away often, and no year passes without the occurrence of cases of violence. He claims the grounds are not large enough, there being only about four and a half acres enclosed by boundaries. He claims more space is needed for playgrounds for the children and for an athletic field for normal students.

The buildings of the school are situated upon a spur of the high bluff to the north, and all approaches, except that on the north, are very steep, and require the use of flights of stairs. Taking as a point from which to measure, the corner of Fifth and Olive streets, which is one block distant from the main entrance to the grounds, and marks pretty freely the general elevation of the city, the main entrance to the grounds is 33 feet above that point. The buildings of the school are not in the best of condition, and repairs are needed on almost all of the buildings. Instead of one building constructed upon a plan designed to make future additions possible, there are three buildings, each constructed after its own plan of immediate needs, but all joined together to give the semblance of one building. The building is, therefore, without any unity of design, a fact which is productive of great inconvenience. The first addition to the building used was its east wall, the west wall of the original structure; the latter wall was thus made to carry a weight two or three times that for which it was intended. Large archways were cut in this wall to extend the corridors of the old into the new; the result has been a serious settling of the partition wall for a considerable distance on both sides of the arches. Whether or not the condition is a serious one, is not certain; but it produces a very unsightly effect, and naturally leads to anxiety.

The building is not arranged properly for school purposes; a great many of the rooms are very dark. This was caused by additions being built to the building. The building is also very improperly heated—most of the rooms being heated by stoves, and that is a very unsatisfactory way. The gymnasium has two stoves, but because of its size, the height of the unsealed roof, and the general loose structure, it can not properly be heated by stoves, and on that account at times the gymnasium can not be used. The building is very poorly ventilated. The architects who planned the building made no provision for ventilation in the original building. A ventilation by open grates, as planned for the second addition, has not proved practical. Some attention should be paid to the ventilation of the building.

The superintendent estimated the land upon which the school now stands could be sold for from $150,000 to $175,000. That would be a sufficient sum, according to his estimation, to build a new, modern sanitary and commodious building or buildings. We investigated very thoroughly and tried to arrive at the valuation of the land, from all the sources that we could, and as near as we could find out, the land is worth between $200,000 and $250,000. We do not think it would be advisable to offer the property for a less sum than $200,000.

MR. SPEAKER: Your Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds thoroughly examined the California Polytechnic School at San Luis Obispo, in San Luis Obispo County, and were treated with the greatest courtesy by the officials in charge of said institution.

There are 281 acres owned by the institution. Within this area are 1 school house, 1 dormitory, 1 blacksmith shop, 1 stable, 1 poultry house, and 1 cow barn, the latter in course of construction by the students.

In front of the school house it is proposed by the officials in charge to lay out and plant a garden consisting entirely of plants and flowers native to California.

One hundred and fifty of the 281 acres is arable land, and the greater part of it is at the present time under cultivation. The other half is hilly pasture land, capable of supporting the dairy.

It is worthy of note that the land belonging to the school has proven a good investment, inasmuch as it was purchased for $7,910, and is now valued at $17,000.

As a matter of information to the members of the Assembly it may be stated that the California Polytechnic School was opened for its first term October 1, 1903. At that date the buildings were barely finished and the classes labored under many disadvantages for several months. These conditions in a great measure kept down the attendance during the first year. Notwithstanding all this the first year's work closed on June 23, 1904, with very satisfactory results. The opening of the second year showed a considerable increase in attendance.

The total enrollment for the first year was 20, and represented the following counties: San Luis Obispo, 7; Monterey, 1; Santa Barbara, 8; El Dorado, 1; Santa Clara, 1; San Diego, 1; Orange, 1; Tulare, 1; and Ventura, 1. The enrollment for the year 1904-05 on November 1, 1905, reached the number of 52, of whom 40 are boys and 12 are girls, which is more than double the first year's enrollment. Fifteen of last year's students have enrolled for the second year. The students are from various sections of the State, and represent the following counties: San Luis Obispo, 23; Santa Barbara, 8; Orange, 3; Riverside, 1; Ventura, 1; Kern, 2; Los Angeles, 2; Santa Clara, 2; Tulare, 4; El Dorado, 1; San Francisco, 2; Alameda, 1; Sacramento, 1; Fresno, 1.

The students are divided as to course of study, as follows: Agriculture, 20; mechanics, 13; domestic science, 12; unassigned, 7. The last number are taking the regular first year work, and will later decide upon their final course of study. It is a notable fact that the large majority of the students have entered with the expectation of completing the regular course of study.

The committee found all the classes diligently at work when it visited the school. The boys who composed the class in carpentry were having a practical lesson in the work of erecting a barn which is to remain a permanent fixture on the grounds. In following out this method of instruction the trustees of the school are duplicating the plans in vogue at the State Agricultural Colleges in Iowa, Kansas, and Minnesota, where many of the minor buildings of those institutions were constructed solely by student labor. In speaking of this matter the first biennial report of the board of trustees of the school says:

"It has been the desire, and indeed it is a worthy one, that students should do as much as possible of the actual construction of the smaller buildings used by the school. In this matter the student is instructed in practical construction and the school is expected to have its buildings erected more economically. During the first school year the students constructed a poultry house, 12 by 20 feet, with double yards, 20 by 150 feet. The material for completing the building and yards cost a trifle over $100. The forging shop was partly constructed by the students. All of the framing of the building, including the trusses for the roof, was done by the students as class instruction. All of the work done by them in this way has been most creditable."

A class in forging was found at work and the class of 12 girls in domestic science was at work in the sewing-room under the direction of a competent instructor, Miss Howell, lately from the Throop Polytechnic, at Pasadena.

The school is in an undeveloped condition, but its present classes are doing excellent work, and the institution is rapidly gaining in popularity and usefulness. It supplies a kind of education which appeals to those desiring to fully equip themselves for the practical affairs of life. It is designed to produce expert mechanics, carpenters and farmers, and equip young ladies with all the education in domestic art which will make them intelligent and noble homemakers.

The board of trustees and the instructors have received many requests from various sections of the State from young men who seek instruction in electrical construction, and an appropriation is asked for to construct and equip a building for this purpose. The request seems just and if anything the amount asked for is too small.

One of the strongest features of the school is the class in domestic science and the faculty has received applications for instruction in that line which justify them in the belief that with proper accommodations, a class of fully one hundred girls can be secured. The school is asking for an appropriation of $35,000 for the construction of a domestic science hall. The biennial report of the trustees in reference to the matter says:

"The growth of our school in its second year has shown that the pressing need of the institution is for a larger building to accommodate the necessary increase that there must be in laboratories, drawing rooms, and recitation-rooms. For two years past the thought has been that the next building which we should need would be one devoted to the study of domestic science and for a girls' home."

The school is in need of money to develop a water supply. There is every indication that a bountiful supply can be procured with a moderate expenditure.

In asking for appropriations the board of trustees has cut down the estimate made to the Controller and they state that the appropriations asked for are absolutely essential and as low as they can be placed for the proper care and development of the school.

We found all buildings in excellent condition and that there is an abundant evidence that the students are carefully taught and that the institution is a most excellent one, and very deserving of your consideration and further support.

MR. SPEAKER: Your Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds make the following report of the condition of the State Normal School at San José, Cal.:

Grounds.—The grounds consist of over twenty acres. At present three men are employed as gardeners. The head gardener receives $50 per month and the two assistants $45 each. The wages (although small) paid these men takes practically all the appropriation for grounds. In our judgment a further appropriation should be made for this purpose.

Buildings.—The main normal school building is in good condition. The training school building should be repainted.

Needs of the School.—The present library facilities are entirely inadequate and more room is absolutely necessary. The attendance in the school has largely increased during the past three years, and more class-rooms are needed. The president of the school suggests that a library and gymnasium building combined will give more rooms and will be a practical solution of the problem.

Gymnasium.—A well-equipped gymnasium is now considered an absolute necessity in every normal school. The San José State Normal School was established in 1862 and has never had a gymnasium or proper facilities for the development of athletics.

Library.—The present library will accommodate not more than 100 students. At times during the day there are at least 250 or 300 who desire to use it. The books are not properly housed and there should be sufficient library room for at least 300 students.

MR SPEAKER: Your Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds make the following report of Woman's Relief Corps Home Association.

(1) One large room for servants, to be built on in the rear of the building and finished below, in order to enlarge the basement, at an estimated cost, complete, of	$800 00
(2) Painting the whole building, inside and outside, together with the two tanks, windmill, etc., which will have to be done within two years	800 00
(3) Repairs and additions to barns, chicken houses, and fences ..	300 00
(4) New pump and piping in the well	300 00
(5) Sewerage conduits	100 00
(6) Incidentals, for four years	200 00
Total	$2,500 00

Nothing is asked for in the way of maintenance, as enough was allowed two years ago to reach—with the aid that the various relief corps throughout the State give to the home—until the next session of the Legislature, two years from now. As you can readily appreciate, the $12.50 per month for each inmate does not nearly equal the expense of caring for the home family.

A gasoline engine with house and appliances for the same, has been purchased within the past two years from funds donated by the corps, as the State appropriation for repairs and improvements, made four years ago, had been exhausted, the same having been cut down from the original estimate.

It is not the intention, two years from now, to ask for anything for repairs and improvements, if the above amount is allowed, which it certainly ought to be, but at that time, of course, a bill will be introduced for maintenance. In this way the amounts are not running together, which has been thought to be a much better plan.

Judge Henry C. Dibble, George Stone, A. W. Barrett and Messrs. Hawley and McGinley of San José are members of the Advisory Board and are all anxious to have the bill passed.

This detailed report is made by P. J. Arnerich, who was appointed as a sub-committee of one to make such report.

MR SPEAKER: Your Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds arrived at the Lick Observatory about 7 o'clock in the evening of January 28, 1905, and was immediately taken in charge by Prof. W. W. Campbell, Director of the Observatory. The Professor and his assistants were untiring in their efforts to give us full information concerning the Observatory. The committee remained over night and made a close inspection of the institution. Several improvements should be made, and considering the fact that the State has been to very little expense in keeping up this wonderful institution, we recommend that such appropriations be made as will carry out the ideas expressed in this report.

Electric Plant.—The Observatory is very far behind the times in the matter of a suitable electric plant and this constitutes by far the most pressing need of the institution. The plans for the institution were made in the late seventies and carried out in the early eighties, before it was known what electricity would do, or that it would become a necessity, and an electric plant was not included in the installation. Partly to remedy this default, the Edison Electric Company presented a 3-horsepower electric plant to the Observatory in 1892. It included a steam engine, a 1-kilowatt generator and a storage battery of small capacity. This has been used every clear night in the scientific work, currents sometimes being drawn off in small quantities at a dozen different points in the observing domes. Not only have the scientific requirements greatly overgrown the capacity of this plant (equal to only fifteen lamps of 16-candlepower each), but the work of the Observatory is suffering both in quality and quantity. It is proposed to install a plant, which shall not only meet the strictly scientific needs but that the buildings may be lighted by electricity instead of coal oil and that the heavy mechanical work may be done by electric power instead of by the variety of uneconomical methods now employed. The principal purposes of the proposed electric plant are as follows:

(a) To supply current required all night long, every clear night, in the scientific work now in progress, and to permit the development of other lines which we cannot now pursue. By way of illustration—the quantity of current at present available to maintain the spectroscopes at constant temperature is so small that, on those nights when the temperature falls rapidly, the work must stop for a few hours, and the enforced idleness of the expensive telescope is uneconomical.

(b) To illuminate all the Observatory buildings, including the residences of the astronomers, by electric light (current used in residences to be paid for, at cost price, by the occupants). Everything is now illuminated by kerosene lamps. This system is unsatisfactory, for many reasons. The work demanded to haul the oil from San José, fill the lamps, and keep them in order, is a serious task. More important still is the element of danger from fire. Fire risks are unusually great, not only on account of the general use of lamps and matches, but of the proximity of the buildings to each other, and of the frequent high winds. The buildings are not fire-proofed in any way. The subject is on my mind literally from week to week, and precautions are taken to minimize the danger; but the greatest source of danger should be removed by substituting electric illumination. The main building alone uses thirty-eight oil lamps. This building and contents, including the great telescope, is valued at not less than $350,000. No insurance is carried.

(c) To supply power for moving the great domes, winding the heavy driving clocks of the telescopes, pumping water, etc.

The steel dome of the Crossley Reflector, presented to the Observatory in 1895, is 40 feet in diameter, weighs 15 tons, and is rotated by hand. The telescope itself is propelled by a clock whose driving weight of 750 pounds is wound up 8 feet every 25 minutes, by hand. These two pieces of work are exceedingly laborious, and should be done with electric motors. The strength of the observers should go into their scientific work and not into this heavy manual labor.

The 75-foot steel dome covering the great telescope is operated by a triple hydraulic engine. This system is not satisfactory; the speed of the dome is very slow, the engine is complex and requires constant attention, and every four or five years demands a general overhauling. Electric motor power would save the observer's time every night, and be more economical in operation and maintenance. The 850-pound driving weight of the great telescope, which must be wound up 18 feet every two hours, should also be operated by an electric motor.

The water for domestic and photographic purposes is supplied by a spring. The pump which lifts the water from the spring catchment reservoir to the distributing and storage reservoir 400 feet higher is operated by steam generated with wood fuel. This plant has been in use a long time and in a few years will have to be replaced. The engineer's services are constantly required, when the steam pump is running, to feed the boiler and fire. This pump should be operated by a motor, with current supplied from the central station; the power would cost less, and the engineer would need to spend only a few minutes a day at the pump.

The spring referred to above is of sufficient capacity to meet the needs of the institution in years of normal rainfall; but in years of small rainfall, the supply is inadequate. We are informed by Professor Campbell that on two occasions in recent years, each lasting for several months, the supply was totally inadequate; they worked on short allowance, reduced to the lowest limit and some of the astronomical work (photography) ceased. Additional water supply should be developed, and there is a simple way to do this. The small spring at present used is north of and 400 feet below the distributing reservoir on the summit. There is a very large spring, flowing several times as much water, south of and 680 feet below the reservoir. The leading pump manufacturers in San Francisco guarantee that an automatic pump placed 200 feet below the spring will lift one seventh of the total flow up to the reservoir, the other six sevenths going to operate the pump. This would more than double the water supply, at a cost of only $1,200 for the pump, pump-house, pipe and labor, which item is included in the estimate given below. The pump would operate and lubricate itself, and require only occasional attention.

Another system of water-works, which supplies hydraulic power for moving the great dome and its rising floor, is operated by windmills. This system is satisfactory as to the moving floor, except in the fall months when there is little wind. During these months the supply in the high reservoir (130 feet higher than the Observatory buildings) is short. The result is that, nearly every fall, the great telescope is practically useless for a few weeks; and, what is more serious, when the reservoir is empty, the Observatory is without adequate fire protection. The regents in order that this situation should not arise again, have purchased an auxiliary pump ready to be installed for lifting water to the reservoir when the wind fails. This pump should be run by electricity. If this is not available, it must be installed for steam.

The machine tools in the instrument-making shop are now driven by a very small gasoline engine, which also drives the 1-kilowatt generator.

At least a dozen primary batteries for doing special small pieces of work are now maintained at various points in the buildings.

It is the unanimous opinion of this committee that the heterogeneous and uneconomical systems of power and lighting should be replaced by a simple and central electric plant, operated by a gasoline engine. This form of engine requires no engineer, one does not have to get up steam, and the fuel consumed is regulated automatically by the work done. The instrument-maker would start it, oil it and stop it.

The officers of the General Electric Company have visited the Observatory to examine into the requirements, and have prepared plans for the plant to meet them, making no charge for the expert services of their engineers, nor for their traveling expenses. The General Electric Company further generously offers to provide their portion of the installation at the factory cost price plus the transportation charges. The storage battery and switchboard required is offered to the Observatory by another company at dealers' rates. The gasoline engine is offered at 33 $\frac{1}{4}$ % below retail price. The pumps, water pipe and all other items (except labor) are quoted at favorable rates. The brick required for the small engine room and in foundations, and the wooden catchment reservoirs for the new spring, are already on the ground. On the above favorable terms the estimated cost of the complete plant is as follows:

17-horsepower gasoline engine, complete; 12-kilowatt generator, 220 to 320 volts; 134 storage battery cells, type 11E, complete; switchboard complete, with meters, etc.; 12 motors complete, with meters, etc.; two pumps, with connections; 2,000 feet heavy No. 2 water-pipe, valves, etc.; red-wood poles, cross-arms, insulators, etc.; copper wire, switches, sockets, lamps, etc.; plain lamp fixtures in buildings; adapting domes and clocks to electric power; cement and materials for engine house and piers; railway freight to San José; stage freight to the summit; labor of installation
Total.....	$9,712 11
Unexpected expenses, 3%.....	291 36
	<hr/> $10,003 47

These figures cannot be reduced at all without crippling the plant. The proposed plant would cost a commercial firm much more than this sum.

Photographic Laboratory.—The necessity for a photographic laboratory, in combination with fire-proof vaults for storing their invaluable photographs, is apparent. Preliminary plans for a building were drawn in 1895 by Director Holden, and the idea was carefully considered, and approved, by Director Keeler. The present dark-rooms are distributed in various buildings, convenient in a certain sense, but they are a source of danger from fire. The Observatory buildings are not fire-proof, the subject apparently not having received attention from the constructors. The dark-room used in connection with the great telescope is in a dangerous location in the main building, and great care must be taken in its use; another dark-room is in the basement of the very valuable Meridian Circle House; a third is in a separate wooden building which becomes unbearably hot in the summer weather; and so on. There is likewise no space available for enlarging and making other copies of photographs. Apparatus for this purpose is sometimes set up temporarily in the great dome, again it is in the Meridian Circle House and quite frequently it is in the main corridor of the Observatory. The original negatives of astronomical subjects are of great value. A few of the most valuable ones are in the safe in connection with the director's office, and others are in various rooms.

It is highly desirable that all photographic requirements should be met by means of a separate photographic building containing suitable dark rooms, enlarging and copying rooms, and a fire-proof storage vault of considerable size.

A minimum appropriation of $10,000 would provide the lumber, iron, labor, etc., in addition to such labor as the observatory workmen could supply, using brick now in the kiln at the institution.

Water System.—The drinking-water system, obtaining its supply from a spring, is of sufficient capacity in ordinary years, but in years of small rainfall the supply is inadequate. The residents of the mountain, as well as the photographic dark-rooms, etc., are then put on short allowance. On two occasions during the past five years the shortage has become embarrassing. There is another and larger spring about three fourths of a mile to the east of the present spring and some 250 feet lower. The use of both springs (in dry years only) would even more than meet present requirements. It is desirable that in the near future the necessary reservoirs, pumps and pipe systems be provided.

Residence Space.—More residence space is urgently demanded. The large brick dwelling house is fully occupied. Its unusually peculiar construction adapts it to the use of individuals, but not to family requirements. The director occupies a separate house of size just sufficient to meet the daily needs of his family. The inevitable demands upon him for entertainment of visitors make a small addition to his house necessary.

Two or more separate residences will be required in the near future. Mrs. Hearst gave money for one residence in 1903. One or two-room additions are greatly needed to some of the workmen's cottages.

The building and equipment of this institution has been of no expense to the State of California. The following are the donations made to this institution:

James Lick's bequest was for amount of.....	$700,000 00
Value of land donated for reservation.....	10,840 00
(Observatory completed and began work, June 1, 1888.)
Gifts from outside sources, from June 1, 1888, to December, 1900....	48,593 94
Gifts from outside sources, from December, 1900, to January, 1905	59,660 00

The director and all his assistants are deeply interested in their work, and too much cannot be said of the efficiency of the faculty of this institution. As regards the appropriation of $10,000 for the building of an electric plant, we recommend a most favorable consideration of same, feeling as we do that it is an absolute necessity.

We also recommend an appropriation of $10,000.00 by the Legislature for the purpose of building a photographic laboratory in combination with fire-proof vaults, according to the ideas hereinbefore set forth.

The other needed improvements mentioned in this report, consisting of additions to residences and reservoirs, pumps and piping for water system, we recommend to the favorable consideration of the next Legislature.

Respectfully submitted.

REDDING, CAL., February 3, 1905.

To the Honorable Senate and Assembly of the State of California, in Legislature assembled:

At a meeting of the Shasta County Medical Society held in Redding, Cal., January 25, 1905, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Shasta County Medical Society is emphatically and unalterably opposed to Assembly Bill No. 267, repealing parts of the present medical law, which we regard as entirely satisfactory and almost ideally perfect, whose validity has recently been sustained by the highest courts of the State, and which protects the profession and the public alike from the charlatan and the quack, and excludes from practice the uneducated graduates from mercenary and disreputable medical colleges; and substituting provisions which we regard as unfair and unjust, and a virtual repeal of the present eminently satisfactory law.

Resolved, That our representatives be hereby instructed and urged to use every possible endeavor to defeat the passage of said bill, together with all similar attempts to alter, amend, or repeal the existing statute.

R. F. WALLACE, Secretary.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Atkinson offered the following resolution, which was read:

(To refer to Committee on Commissions and Public Expenditures to make certain inquiries.)

WHEREAS, The Los Angeles "Express," in its issue of Saturday, February 4, 1905, under a scare-head reading—

"THIRD VISIT TO WHITTIER.

"ANOTHER LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE ON A JUNKETING EXPEDITION."

Says: "To-day the Assembly Committee on Charities and Corrections went down to Whittier to inspect that institution. This is the third legislative committee that has come down during the present session, and every member has appeared to enjoy himself immensely. Unfortunately for the statesmen, they do not stay long enough in Los Angeles to become accustomed to the kind of water they get with their meals at the Angelus grill, where they dine. This fact has in a measure discomposed the members and served to delay the really important business that brought them hither.

"What this important business is the legislators refuse to say, even if they know. It is said, outside the charmed circle, that the legislators are assuming the power of meddling in the appointment of a new superintendent of the Whittier school. This will be resented by the Board of Trustees. One thing that is apparent is that these committees do not agree harmoniously with the State Board of Charities and Corrections, and it is reported that members of the Board even refused to go into conference with a legislative committee because the statesmen had but a hazy notion of why they had come to the southland except for a good time." And

WHEREAS, The State Board of Charities and Corrections is a creature of this Legislature, instituted at the expense of the taxpayers of this State for the purpose of enlightening this Legislature upon the conditions of the public service and institutions; and

WHEREAS, The insulting statement above quoted indicates that the members of said Board are forgetting not only the consideration due this Legislature, but their duty; be it, therefore,

Resolved, That this matter and this resolution be referred to the Committee on Commissions and Public Expenditures, with instructions to investigate and bring into this Assembly a bill providing for the abolition of such State Board of Charities and Corrections, by repealing the law under which such Board was constituted, providing the committee finds such action desirable.

Mr. Houser moved to lay the resolution on the table.

Motion lost.

Mr. Atkinson moved that the resolution be referred to Committee on Public Charities and Corrections.

Motion carried, and such was the order.

Mr. Drew offered the following resolution, which was read:

(To debar absent members from receiving their per diem when no quorum is present.)

Resolved, That hereafter when it shall appear from a call of the roll at any regular session of the Assembly that no quorum is present, and that certain members are absent without leave, the Clerk of the Assembly is hereby authorized and instructed to certify a copy of the roll-call to the State Controller, and all persons so found absent without leave shall be debarred from receiving their per diem for the day in which absence occurred.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. Treadwell raised the point of order that the resolution was out of order, as a similar resolution had been laid on the table yesterday.

ON REVISION AND REFORM OF LAWS.

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, February 7, 1905.

MR. SPEAKER: Your Committee on Revision and Reform of Laws, to whom was referred Assembly Bill No. 389—An Act to add a Chapter VI, of Title II, of Part II, of Division I of the Civil Code, relating to life, health, accident, and annuity or endowment insurance on the assessment plan—have had the same under consideration, and respectfully report the same back, and recommend that it do pass as amended.

DREW, Chairman.

Assembly Bill No. 389 ordered on second-reading file.

SPECIAL REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON REVISION AND REFORM OF LAWS, EXPLAINING CODE BILLS.

The Committee on Revision and Reform of Laws submitted the following special report, which was ordered printed in the Journal:

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, February 7, 1905.

MR. SPEAKER: Your Committee on Revision and Reform of Laws hereby makes a special report with reference to the Code revision bills, now on the special file of said bills, and ready for third reading.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 264.

(Last amended in Assembly February 1, 1905.)

Civil Code—Section 58: The provisions of this section are contained in the present Section 82. The section is therefore unnecessary.

Civil Code—Section 60: The change consists of the insertion of the word "Mongolians" after the word "negroes."

Civil Code—Section 68: The change consists in the substitution of the word "others" for "other" before "than"; the substitution of "a party" for "the parties" after "than"; and the substitution of "it" for "that marriage" after "invalidate." The meaning of the section is unchanged.

Civil Code—Section 79½: The change consists of the omission of the words "procuring a license and" after "to" in line 3, Section 4, Page 2, of the printed bill, thus requiring a license in every case, but leaving the mode of celebrating the marriage as at present. The section is renumbered 79a.

Civil Code—Section 84: The design of the amendment is to make the rule declared in this section applicable to all judgments adjudging marriage null, the present section applying only to cases where a marriage is annulled on the ground that a former husband or wife was living.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 265.

Civil Code—Sections 212, 243, 244, and 245: The provisions of the above sections, relating to guardian and ward, are controlled by Sections 1747, 1758, and 1793 of the Code of Civil Procedure. They are, therefore, unnecessary and misleading.

Civil Code—Section 246: The change consists in the addition of Subdivision 4, which is a codification of the Statutes of 1873-4, page 297, relating to the care of orphan and abandoned children. The penal provisions of that Act are, however, omitted as they do not properly find a place in this Code.

Civil Code—Section 247: The subjectmatter of this section is provided for in Section 1753 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Civil Code—Sections 248 and 249: The provisions of these sections are included in Sections 1753 and 1770 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Civil Code—Section 258: This section, which prescribed the mode of placing insane persons in the asylum, has been supplanted by later legislation (see Statute of 1897, page 311, relative to the establishment of a lunacy commission, and Political Code, Sections 2136 to 2199).

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 336.

Civil Code—Sections 403 and 404: The bill adds a new chapter, entitled "General Provisions Affecting Corporations." Said chapter is made up of the old Section 403, which now stands in a chapter entitled "Extension and Dissolution of Corporations," and of the matter now in Section 334, which now stands in a chapter entitled "Examination of Corporations." The object of the rearrangement is the placing of the sections under a more appropriate chapter heading.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 335.

Civil Code—Section 399: This section, which purports merely to designate the place in the Code of Civil Procedure, where the dissolution of corporations is provided for, does not state any rule of law and constitutes but an imperfect index to the provisions referred to.

Civil Code—Section 400: The change consists in the substitution of the word "a" for "such," in line 4.

Civil Code—Section 401: The design of the amendment is to require the written assent of stockholders representing two thirds of the capital stock, instead of permitting two thirds in number of the stockholders to act by their written consent. The change consists in the substitution of the words "two thirds of the members or of stockholders representing two thirds of the capital stock" in place of that number of "stockholders or members," in lines 11 and 12.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 333.

Civil Code—Section 322: The change consists of the substitution of the language of the first sentence of Section 3, of Article XII, of the Constitution in place of the first sentence of the present section. As the section now stands, it is believed to be unconstitutional. (See Larrabee vs. Baldwin, 35 Cal. 155.) The words "an equal share" are substituted for "his proportion," in line 46.

Civil Code—Section 323: The change consists in the addition of the words "but any certificate issued prior to full payment must show on its face what amount has been paid thereon" (lines 7 to 9), the object being to require a certificate issued prior to full payment to show the amount paid thereon.

Civil Code—Section 325: The amendment is designed to make it clear that shares of stock standing in the name of a married woman are presumed to be her separate property, and that they may be dealt with by her as such, in the absence of proof and notice to the contrary.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 332.

Civil Code—Sections 264 and 276: The bill is a codification of the Statute of 1875-6, page 842, relative to masters and apprentices, as amended in 1880, page 28, the old chapter being repealed and the provisions of the Acts above referred to substituted in place thereof.

In this codification Section 1 of the Statute has been made Section 264; Sections 2 and 7, 265; Sections 3, 4, 5, and 12, 266; Section 6, 267; Section 8 and the latter part of Section 9, 268; the first clause of Section 9 and all of Section 10, 269; Section 11, 270; Section 13, 271; Section 14, 272; Section 15, 273; Sections 16 and 17, 274; Section 19, 275; Section 20, 276.

It will be observed that Section 18 of the Statute has been omitted. It purports to make the parties to an indenture of apprenticeship liable to the master for any breach thereof.

The theory of the Statute is that the contract of apprenticeship is not made by the minor, but by his parent or guardian. If such parent or guardian is made personally liable on the contract, a parent will rarely, and the guardian almost never, enter into it. It seems sufficient that such parent or guardian be made answerable for the cost of the proceeding brought by the master to be released from the indenture, as provided for in Section 274. The master on his part is not absolutely bound, because he may, if he wishes to remove from the State, or to quit his trade or business, apply to be released from his contract, and he may take like action whenever the apprentice is guilty of neglect, refusal to do his duty, or gross misbehavior. These considerations seem to furnish good reason for the omission of the section.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 331.

Civil Code—Section 299: The change consists in the insertion of the words "other than the county in which its original articles of incorporation are filed" after "state," in line 4, Section 1.

Civil Code—Section 302: The change consists in the omission of the words "and the right to vote determined" after "given," in line 7, Section 2. The right to vote is controlled by Section 307.

Civil Code—Section 304: The provisions of the present section, declaring that no by-law or any amendment thereof shall take effect until copied in the book of by-laws, is amended so as to permit by-laws and amendments thereof, which have been duly passed, to be treated as valid and enforceable against the corporation and persons having notice thereof, regardless of whether or not they have been copied into the proper book. It has often happened that by-laws have been published and generally acted upon by the corporation, and by others, and then their effect has been sought to be avoided on account of the failure of the proper officer to perform his duty of copying them as the Code directs. The change consists of the addition of the last sentence (lines 26 to 29).

Civil Code—Section 309: The change consists in the omission of the words "nor must they divide, withdraw, or pay to the stockholders, or any of them, any part of the capital stock," where those words first occur, and in the omission of the words "in the event of its dissolution," after "thereof," in line 5.

The reason for the omission of the words first above alluded to is that by some clerical error they occur twice in the section. The words "in the event of its dissolution," are omitted because their presence makes it impossible to enforce the liability against the directors unless the corporation is first dissolved, which could not have been the intention of the Legislature.

Civil Code—Section 310: The amendment, while it authorizes the removal of the whole board of directors by a two-thirds vote of the members or stockholders, denies the power to remove less than the whole number by such vote.

The reason for this is that by the system of cumulative voting sanctioned by Section 307, a minority may obtain representation in the board of directors; if so, a director elected to represent a minority of one third ought not to be removed by the subsequent vote of the other two thirds, and the system of cumulative voting and minority representation thus made ineffective. The first sentence only is changed.

Civil Code—Section 311: By the amendment proposed the holders of a majority of the stock, though their number is less than three, are authorized to apply to the justice to issue a warrant for an election. The change consists in the addition of the last sentence, lines 13 to 15.

Civil Code—Section 312: The change consists in the substitution of the words "Superior Court" in place of "District Court," in line 12, and in the omission of the words "bona fide" before, "stockholder," in line 7. For the purposes of election, a person appearing upon the books of the corporation to be a stockholder should be permitted to vote, and election officers should not be vested with authority to deny such a stockholder the right to vote, or to claim that for some reason he is not a bona fide stockholder. (See Smith vs. S. F. & N. P. Ry. Co., 115 Cal. 584.)

Civil Code—Section 314: The design of the amendment is to extend the provisions of the section to all elections howsoever authorized, and for this purpose the words "by law" are inserted after "appointed," "in" is omitted after "appointed," and "or otherwise" are inserted after "by-laws."

Civil Code—Section 315: The change consists in the substitution of the words "superior court of the county" for "district court of the district."

ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 266.

Civil Code—Section 226: The first two sentences of this section have been recast with the design to making the proceeding for adoption judicial, thereby supporting it by the same intendments which are indulged in favor of other proceedings conducted in courts of record.

Civil Code—Section 227: The change consists in the substitution of the word "court" for the word "judge," in line 3, and in the addition of the last sentence, lines 8 to 10, said sentence being added for the purpose of making it clear that the papers constituting part of the adoption, or of the proceeding therefor, must be filed and preserved by the clerk.

ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 390.

Civil Code—Section 465a: This section is a codification of the Statute of 1893, page 208, relating to the operation of railroads.

Civil Code—Section 468: The amendment consists in codifying and adding to the section the provisions of the Act of 1880, page 43, to compel the operation of railroads, and of the Statute of 1897, page 5, to provide for the management and operation of railroads above certain elevations.

Civil Code—Section 473a: Section 2 of the Statute of 1880, page 21, authorizing railway and other corporations organized under the laws of this State or of any State or Territory of the United States to do business in this State, on equal terms, is codified in this section.

Civil Code—Section 481: The amendment consists in the substitution of the word "its" for "their" in line 3, and the substitution of "it" for "they" in line 5, thus correcting errors of grammar.

Civil Code—Section 489: Section 11 of the Statute of 1880, page 47, defining the powers of the Board of Railroad Commissioners, is substituted in place of the present Section 489. The section has been inoperative since the adoption of the Constitution of 1879.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 388.

Civil Code—Sections 453a, 453b, and 453c: The Statute of 1875-6, page 689, concerning the powers of underwriters, as amended by the Statute of 1897, page 223, is codified in the sections above named, a new chapter being added, entitled "Corporations to Discover Fire, and to Save Property and Human Life From Destruction Thereby," to consist of Sections 453a, 453b, and 453c.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 387.

(Last amended in Assembly February 1, 1905.)

Civil Code—Sections 452a and 453: The Statute of 1873-4, page 745, as amended by the Statutes of 1880, page 25, and 1901, page 6, relating to mutual benefit associations, is codified in the above sections, and a new chapter, entitled "Mutual Benefit and Life Associations," is added, to consist of Sections 452a and 453.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 386.

(Last amended in Assembly February 1, 1905.)

Civil Code—Sections 431 and 452: Section 431, which deals with the amounts to be received by life insurance companies, now stands in a chapter entitled "Fire, Marine, and Title Insurance Corporations." It is transferred to a more appropriate chapter, and numbered 452.

Civil Code—Section 448: This section exempts accident insurance companies from stamp duties, but as there are no such duties under the law as it now stands, the section is unnecessary.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 385.

Civil Code—Section 428: The change consists of the insertion of the words "at once" before "reinsuring," in line 7.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 384.

(Last amended in Assembly February 3, 1905.)

Civil Code—Section 414: The change consists of the insertion of the words "of any insurance company" after "incorporation," in line 4, thus making the section applicable, as was no doubt intended by the Legislature, to insurance corporations only.

Civil Code—Section 415: The change consists in omitting the clause in the last sentence of the section as it now stands, excusing the corporation from disposing of real property if it procures a certificate of an insurance commissioner that it will suffer by such sale, said clause being in conflict with that part of Section 9, of Article XII, of the Constitution which declares that no corporation shall "hold for a longer period than five years any real estate except such as may be necessary for carrying on its business."

Civil Code—Section 417: The change consists in the substitution of the word "its" for "their" before "by-laws," thus correcting an error in grammar.

Civil Code—Section 418: The change consists of the omission of the words "the estates of" before "all" in line 6.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 499.

Civil Code—Section 1386: A clerical error is corrected by renumbering the subdivisions; certain grammatical errors are corrected. The words "or grandchild" are inserted after "child" in line 41; the words "nor the child or grandchild of a deceased brother or sister" are inserted after "sister" in line 44; the words "children of such deceased spouse and the descendants thereof, and if none, then to," are inserted in lines 73 and 74. In the second line of subdivision 8, the word "issue" is substituted for "kindred," and the subdivision amended in accordance with the urgent request of Judge Gray of the Supreme Court Commission to overcome such cases as estate of McCauley (138 Cal. 546).

Civil Code—Section 1388: The amendment consists in declaring that if an illegitimate child has been legitimated, his estate on his death is succeeded to as if he were born in wedlock.

Civil Code—Section 1395: The change consists in the substitution of the words "other heir" for "other lineal descendants," in lines 4 and 7; the substitution of "heirs" for "issue" in line 6.

Civil Code—Section 1399: The change consists in the substitution of the words "other heir" for "other lineal descendant" before "receiving" in line 3, and in the substitution of "heirs" for "issue" after "leaving" in line 4.

Civil Code—Section 1405: The change consists in the words "superior court" for "district court" before "or" in line 4, and in the substitution of the words "he appears in the court in which such information was filed and asks for a judgment or order entitling him thereto," page 2, Assembly Bill No. 499 (lines 8 to 11), in place of the words "proof to the satisfaction of the State Comptroller and Treasurer be produced that he is entitled to succession thereto." The design of the amendment is to require the proof of the right to succession to be made in court instead of vesting the controller and the treasurer with power to determine the question.

Civil Code—Section 1406: This section is recast to conform to the proposed amendment to the last section.

Civil Code—Section 1409: This is a new section corresponding to the proposed Section 1314.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 216.

Civil Code—Section 47: The change consists of the addition of the second sentence in subdivision 2 (lines 6 to 8). The purpose of the amendment is to render not privileged irrelevant matter maliciously published in the course of judicial proceedings.

Civil Code—Section 49: The matter in subdivision 1 of the section as it now stands, referring to the abduction of a husband from his wife, and of a parent from his child, is omitted, and the words "of a husband from his wife" are inserted in subdivision 2. Also, the words "or of a servant from his master," now in subdivision 2, are omitted from the section.

Civil Code—Sections 51 and 52: The Statute of 1897, page 137, relating to the rights of persons, is codified in the two sections above named.

Civil Code—Sections 53 and 54: The Statute of 1893, page 220, relating to the rights of persons, is codified in the sections above named.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 393.

Civil Code—Section 497: The change consists of the insertion of the words "compressed air" after "electricity" in line 19, and in the addition of the last sentence (lines 23 to 34), said sentence being a codification of the Statute of 1897, page 46, authorizing cities and towns to grant franchises for the construction and maintenance of railroads beyond the limits of such cities and towns, and leading to parks owned by them.

Civil Code—Section 498: The change consists in the addition of the last sentence (lines 21 to 27), which is a codification of the Statute of 1893, page 44, requiring street railways to allow mail carriers to ride free of charge. The sentence which now follows the word "railways," in line 7, is transposed and placed in lines 17 to 20.

Civil Code—Section 504: The present Section 504 is recast, and the penalty is made $250 in place of $200.

Civil Code—Section 507: The amendment consists in the substitution of the word "municipality" for "corporation" in line 5, and of "owner of such railroad" for "corporation" in line 8.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 394.

Civil Code—Section 513: The change consists in the omission of the words "they were" before the word "before" in line 14. The omission does not change the meaning of the section.

Civil Code—Section 514: The change consists in the omission of that part of the section excepting from its operation the counties of Butte, Del Norte, Humboldt, Klamath, Plumas, and Sierra.

Civil Code—Section 517: The section as it now stands authorizes the toll-gatherer to prevent from passing through his gate persons leading or driving animals or vehicles subject to toll. The form of the section has been changed to express what was doubtless originally intended by the Legislature.

Civil Code—Section 518: The change consists of the insertion of the words "or any vehicle or animal" after "passenger," in line 4.

Civil Code—Section 522: The change consists in the substitution of the word "its" in place of "their" in line 5, thus correcting an error of grammar.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 395.

Civil Code—Section 524: The Statute of 1897, page 191, authorizing municipal corporations to construct paths and roads for the use of bicycles and other horseless vehicles, codified in this section.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 396.

Civil Code—Section 528: The change consists of the insertion of the words, "or other governing body having authority in that behalf," after "supervisor," in line 5.

Civil Code—Section 529: The change consists of the insertion of the words, "or other governing body having authority in that behalf," after "supervisors," in line 6.

Civil Code—Section 530: The change consists of the insertion of the words, "or other governing body having authority in that behalf," after "supervisors," in line 5.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 399.

Civil Code—Section 583b: This section is a codification of the Statutes of 1893, page 183, and 1897, page 27, the only change made being in the provisions concerning the person who is to make the report. The original Statute provided that the report should be made by the president or secretary. It has been thought best to impose the duty upon a single officer, so that it cannot be evaded by one officer, by his saying that it was the duty of the other, or that he has supposed the other had, or would, perform it.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 479.

Civil Code—Sections 586, 587, and 587a: The bill revises the whole of Title XI, of part IV, of Division First, of the Civil Code, respecting mining corporations. Sections 586 and 587 are not changed, but simply reenacted. Section 587a contains substantially the matter now in Section 361, the word "corporations" being substituted for "companies" in lines 42, 53, 56, and 58, and the words "and to cause notice of the time and place fixed for such meeting to be mailed to each stockholder of each of such corporations at his last known place of residence or business at least ten days before the time fixed for such meeting" being inserted (lines 60 to 64). The matter added is designed to provide the mode in which notices may be served on stockholders.

Civil Code, Sections 588, 589, 590: The Statute of 1873-4, page 866, as amended in 1880, page 34, and 1897, page 38, is codified in the above sections, the only substantial change made being in the omission of the proviso in Section 1 of the amendatory Act of 1897, limiting its provisions to corporations "whose stock is listed and offered for sale at public exchange." The provisions of the part of the section omitted are unconstitutional. (See Johnston vs. Tautphaus, 127 Cal. 604.)

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 480.

Civil Code, Sections 591, 592, 592a, 592b, 592c, 592d, and 592e: The bill adds a new title to the Code, designated "Corporations for the Formation of Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Trade, Mechanics' Institutions, and other Kindred Organizations," the matter contained in said chapter being a codification of the Statute of 1865-6, page 469, as amended in 1867-8, page 5, and 1885, page 76, respecting chambers of commerce.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 481.

Civil Code—Sections 607, 607a, 607b, 607c, 607d, 607e, 607f, and 607g: The subject-matter of the above sections is taken from the Statute of 1873-4, page 499; as amended in 1901, page 285, and 1903, page 69—to prevent cruelty to animals; the Statute of 1875-6, page 830, relating to the incorporation of societies for the prevention of cruelty to children; and the Statute of 1877-8, page 812, for the protection of children; and the Statute of 1877-8, page 813, relating to children. Section 1 of the Act of 1875-6, page 830, is codified in Section 607. Subdivision 7 of Section 2 of the same Act is codified in Section 607a, and Section 3 in Section 607b. Section 607c is a codification of Section 4 of the Act of 1875-6, page 830, and Section 4 of the Act of 1873-4, page 499. Section 5 of the Act of 1875-6, page 830, is codified in Section 607d, and Section 14 of that Act, as amended in 1903, page 69, and Section 5 of the Act of 1877-8, page 813, are consolidated and codified in Section 607e. Section 5 of the Act of 1873-4, page 499, as amended in 1901, page 285, is codified in Section 607f, and Section 3 of the Act of 1877-8, page 812, is codified in Section 607g, with the exception of subdivision 5 thereof, which is an addition thereto, to cover the matters referred to in the Act of 1877-8, page 813.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 516.

Civil Code—Section 3451: The change consists of the insertion of the words "or creditors or to some other person or persons in trust for such particular creditor or creditors," after "creditor," in line 12. The rule stated in the section as amended by the addition of the clause above quoted is the rule heretofore enforced in this State (Lawrence vs. Neff, 41 Cal. 566; Hendley vs. Pfister, 39 Cal. 233; Priest vs. Brown, 100 Cal. 623); but some doubt has been the case upon the subject by the later case of Sabachi vs. Chase, 108 Cal. 81.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 515.

Civil Code—Section 3366: The change consists in the substitution of the words, "as provided by the laws of this State," in place of the words, "in the cases specified in this title and in no others." The purpose is to enlarge the scope of the section.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 514.

Civil Code—Section 3346a: The new section incorporates into this Code the principle now declared in Section 3344 of the Political Code.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 513.

Civil Code—Section 3294: The change consists in the substitution of the words "express or implied" for "actual or presumed," in line 5, and in the substitution of the words "the plaintiff, in addition to the actual damages, may recover," in place of the words "the jurors, in addition to actual damages, may give," in lines 5 and 6.

As the section now stands it appears to apply to jury trials only. This, of course, was not the intention of the Legislature.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 512.

Civil Code—Section 3131: The change consists in the insertion of the words "or his agent" after "holder," in line 6. The design of the amendment is to conform the section in this respect to Section 3186.

Civil Code—Section 3176: The change consists in the insertion of the word "cannot" after "residence," in line 10, to correct a manifest error.

Civil Code—Section 3197: The change consists in the omission of the words "or other good consideration," as they occur after "value," line 5. The presence of these words implies that a consideration other than "for value" may support a promise in writing to accept a bill. Such is not intended to be the law.

Civil Code—Section 3235: The change consists in the substitution of the word "a" for "any" before "person," in line 8; in the omission of the words "but in any of the other States west of the Rocky Mountains" after "State" in line 8; in the omission of the third subdivision; and in the renumbering of the fourth subdivision rendered necessary thereby.

As it now stands the section divides for its purposes that part of the United States not included within this State, into two parts, viz: The States west, and the States east, of the Rocky Mountains, thus apparently ignoring the States now existing situated partly on each side of those mountains. It has seemed best to abolish the distinction altogether and to provide a uniform rate of damage for all the States, irrespective of their position with reference to those mountains.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 511.

Civil Code—Section 3052: The design of the amendment is to extend the lien provided in the present Section 3052 to any person rendering any service by labor, skill, or materials furnished or employed in the necessary protection and safe keeping or carriage of property while in his legal possession for his reasonable charges. To accomplish this the words "or while lawfully in possession thereof renders any service to the owner thereof, by labor or skill, necessarily employed for the protection, safe keeping, or carriage thereof," are inserted after "property" in line 5; the words "dependent upon possession" are inserted after "same" in line 8; the words "or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy his demand" are inserted after "property" in line 12; and "county" is substituted for "town" in line 18.

Civil Code—Section 3061: The Statute of 1885, page 109, concerning liens in favor of persons working on threshing machines, is codified in this section.

Civil Code—Sections 3062, 3063, and 3064: The Statute of 1891, page 90, is codified in the above section.

Civil Code—Section 3065: So much of the Statute of 1877-78, page 747, as amended in 1880, page 38, and 1887, page 53, relating to loggers' liens, as is deemed necessary to be preserved, is codified in the above section.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 510.

Civil Code—Section 2973: This section merely declares the law already existing upon the subject. It is deemed proper to have the same expressed in the Code.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 509.

Civil Code—Section 2903: The change consists in the addition of the clause after the word "foreclosed," in line 6. The design of the amendment is to state and apply the rule of equity in such cases, it being feared that the declaration of a similar rule in Section 2904, and its omission in this section might lead to doubt.

Civil Code—Section 2913: The change consists in the substitution of the word "value" for "a good consideration," after "for," in line 9.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 508.

Civil Code—Section 2541: The change consists in the addition of the clause following "mortgagee" in line 10, and is designed to authorize a mortgagee in whose favor insurance is effected, to perform for the mortgagor any acts to be performed by him, with the same effect as if performed by the mortgagor.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 507.

Civil Code—Section 2334: The change consists in the substitution of the words "want of ordinary care," for "ordinary negligence," in line 5.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 506.

Civil Code—Section 2236: The change consists in the addition of the words "and for the value of its use" after "events" in line 6.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 505.

Civil Code—Section 2170: The change consists in the omission of all of the present section except the first sentence, the provisions following the first sentence being transferred to Section 2172. The reason for the transposition is stated in the note to the following section:

Civil Code—Section 2172: This section consists in all the present Section 2170, except the first sentence. In 1880 Section 2170 was amended, when it was manifestly the intention to amend Section 2172, and the proposed amendment to Section 2172 is for the purpose of carrying out that intention.

Civil Code—Section 2180: The change consists in the substitution of the word "need" for "may," in line 8. The present section would seem to prohibit a carrier by stage from receiving more than sixty pounds of luggage, wherein it was manifestly intended only to relieve him, at his election, from receiving a greater amount.

Civil Code—Section 2195: The change consists in the substitution of the words "want of ordinary care" for "ordinary negligence," in line 4.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 504.

Civil Code—Section 1929: The change consists in the substitution of the words "want of ordinary care" for "ordinary negligence," in line 4.

Civil Code—Section 1930: The change consists in the substitution of the words "he is liable to the letter for all damages resulting from such use, or the letter" in place of the words "the letter who is responsible for its safety during such use in all events, or" (lines 4 to 6).

Civil Code—Section 1932: The change consists in the substitution of the words "want of ordinary care" for "ordinary negligence," in line 13.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 503.

Civil Code—Section 1865: The section is amended to incorporate therein the provisions upon the same subject of Sections 3136, 3137, and 3138 of the Political Code.

Civil Code—Section 1871: The section is amended to incorporate therein the provisions of Sections 3139, 3140, and 3141 of the Political Code.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 502.

Civil Code—Sections 1858, 1858a, 1858b, 1858c, 1858d, 1858e, and 1858f: The Statute of 1857-8, page 949, relating to warehousemen's and wharfingers' receipts, is codified in the above sections.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 501.

Civil Code—Section 624: The change consists in the addition of subdivision 7 (lines 31 to 34). The cases in which it is sought to establish parole evidence alleged agreements to provide for a person by will are becoming so numerous as to warrant the assumption that the reasons inducing the original enactment of the statute of frauds apply with especial force to agreements of this class and that they ought to be brought within that statute.

Civil Code—Section 1325: The change consists in the omission of the word "oral" before "negotiations," in line 4.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 500.

Civil Code—Section 1468: This is a new section and is designed to remove any doubt that covenants of the kind mentioned therein run with the land.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 498.

Civil Code—Section 1275: The change consists in the insertion of the word "that" before "corporation," in line 5, and in the insertion of the words "counties, municipal corporations and corporations" after "that," in line 5. The amendment in substance incorporates into the section the provisions of the Act of 1881, page 2, authorizing the several counties, cities and counties, cities and towns, of the State, to receive property by gift, bequest and devise.

Civil Code—Section 1276: The change consists in the substitution of the words "the same" in place of "his name" after "sign," in line 16. The purpose of the amendment is to avoid the strict construction given to subdivision 4 in Estate of Walker, 110 Cal. 387.

Civil Code—Section 1235: The change consists in the insertion of all the matter after the word "chapter," in line 4, the purpose being merely to state what has always been understood to be the rule in this State respecting bequests of personal property, viz: that it may be bequeathed in accordance with the law of the testator's domicile.

Civil Code—Section 1800: The change consists in the omission of the word "unmarried" before "women," in line 3. The purpose of the amendment is to apply the same rule to wills executed by married and unmarried women with respect to the revocation by subsequent marriage. (Page 2, Assembly Bill No. 498.)

Civil Code—Section 1306: The change consists in the addition of the last sentence (lines 9 to 12) and is intended to change the rule of Smith vs. Olmstead, 83 Cal. 582.

Civil Code—Section 1307: The change consists in the addition of the last sentence (lines 8 to 12). See note to preceding section.

Civil Code—Section 1314: The provisions of this section are new.

Civil Code—Section 1327: The change consists in the addition of the clause following the word "intention" in line 5, and provides that the words in a will need not be taken in a technical sense, if it appears to have been drawn by the testator, and that he was unacquainted with such sense.

Civil Code—Section 1360: The change consists in the insertion in the word "not" in line 12, and is designed to correct what is obviously a clerical error.

Civil Code—Section 1364: The change consists in the transposition of the words "within four years after the devisor's death" by striking them out at the end of the section, where they now appear, and placing them after the word "unless," in line 7.

Civil Code—Section 1376: The change consists in the addition of the clause following the word "state," in line 5, and has been rendered necessary by the proposed amendment to Section 1285.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 497.

Civil Code—Sections 1269a, 1269b, and 1269c: The Statute of 1873-4, page 582, relating to homesteads belonging to insane persons, is codified in the above sections, which are placed in a new chapter, entitled "Alienation of Homesteads of Insane Persons."

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 496.

Civil Code—Section 1263: The change consists in the insertion of the words "and if the claimant is married the name of the spouse" after "family," in line 5.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 495.

Civil Code—Section 1218: This is a new section. It is self-explanatory.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 494.

Civil Code—Section 1181: The change consists in the substitution of the word "township" for "district" before "for," in line 5.

Civil Code—Section 1185: The change consists in the substitution of the words "person who executed it on behalf of the corporation," in place of "president or secretary of such corporation." (See note to Section 1161.)

Civil Code—Section 1190: The change consists in the substitution of the words "the person (or officer) who executed the within instrument on behalf of the corporation therein named," in place of the words "the president (or the secretary) of the corporation that executed the within instrument." (See note to Section 1161, Assembly Bill 493).

Civil Code—Section 1202: The change consists in the substitution of the word "superior" for "district," before "court," in line 5.

Civil Code—Section 1203: The change consists in the substitution of the word "superior" in the place of "district" before "court," in line 5.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 493.

Civil Code—Section 1161: The change consists in the substitution of the words "the person executing the same in behalf of the corporation" in place of "its president or secretary" (lines 8 and 9). The reason for the amendment is that an instrument may be executed on behalf of a corporation by an officer or person other than its president or secretary, when authorized by its board of directors. The section as it now stands appears to sanction its execution by those officers only.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 492.

Civil Code, Section 1096: Section 1 of the Act of 1873-4, page 345, relating to conveyances of real estate, is codified in the above section. The rest of the statute should be added to Section 4236 of the Political Code.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 491.

Civil Code—Section 993: The change consists in the addition of the words "and the person transferring it may transfer with it the right of using the name under which the business is conducted" (lines 4 to 6). The purpose of the amendment is to authorize the transfer of the right of using the name with the transfer of the good-will of the business.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 490.

Civil Code—Section 970: The amendment consists in the substitution of the words "by or under authority of the laws of the United States" after "steamers," in line 43, in place of the words "under authority of the Acts of Congress, approved August thirtieth, eighteen hundred and fifty-two, and April twenty-ninth, eighteen hundred and sixty-four."

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 489.

Civil Code—Sections 842 and 843: The Statutes of 1889, page 202, relating to the protection of owners of ditches and flumes, is codified in the above sections. Section 3 of the statute is not codified for the reason that any matter in it which should be retained is fully covered by the general rules of law.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 488.

Civil Code—Section 822: A clerical error is corrected by inserting "has" after "property," in line 3.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 487.

Civil Code—Section 793: The words "in the district court," where they occur in the present section, are omitted.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 486.

Civil Code—Sections 653b, 653c, 653d, 653e, 653f, 653g, 653h, 653i, 653j and 653k: The Statute of 1895, page 221, is codified in the above sections, which are placed in a title designated "Coöperative Business Associations."

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 485.

Civil Code—Section 653a: This section is a codification of that part of the Statute of 1877-8, page 883, defining cooperative corporations, and the section is placed in a new title designated "Coöperative Business Corporations." That part of the statute declaring that the by-laws may provide for the number of votes to which each shareholder shall be entitled is omitted for the reason that it is special legislation, and probably unconstitutional within the decision in Krause vs. Durbrow (127 Cal. 681).

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 484.

Civil Code—Section 638a: This section is a codification of Section 19 of the Statute of 1893, page 229.

Civil Code—Section 643: The last sentence of the present section has been omitted for the reason that it occurs in Subdivision 19 of Section 690 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Civil Code—Section 648½: This section is no longer necessary; the statute referred to therein, to wit: that on 1877-8, page 955, having been repealed. (Stats. 1897, page 243.)

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 483.

Civil Code—Sections 629, 630, 631, and 632: The purpose of the amendment is to make the above sections applicable to electric as well as to gas light corporations. To accomplish this, the following changes have been made: In Section 629 the words "or direct or primary wire" are inserted after "main" (line 13), and the words "or electricity" are inserted in two places after "gas" (lines 15, 20). In Section 630 the words "or wire," are inserted after "pipe," in line 25, and "them" is substituted for "it" after "laying," in line 26. In Section 631 the words "any owner or manager of gas or electric works, or agent of such owner or manager, exhibiting written authority, signed by such owner or manager, or" are inserted at the beginning of the section (lines 30 to 32); the words "or electric light" are inserted after "gas," in line 33; the words "or electricity" are inserted after "gas," in line 35, and the words "or electric meters" are inserted after "meters," in line 37. In Section 632 the words "or electricity" are added after "gas" in three places (lines 43, 47 and 51), and the word "wires" is inserted after "pipes," in line 45.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 391.

Civil Code—Section 493: The change consists in the substitution of the words "Section four hundred and ninety-two" in place of "Act," in lines 3 and 4.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 392.

Civil Code—Section 494, as approved March 22, 1899: In 1899 a section relating to the sale of railroads was added to the Code, and numbered 494. In 1903 a new section was added, also numbered 494, and clearly intended to supersede the old Section 494. Accordingly, it is thought advisable to repeal the earlier section.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 397.

Civil Code—Sections 536, 537, 538, 539 and 540: The change consists of the insertion of the words "or telephone" after the word "telegraph," in lines 14, 24, 30, 34, and 43, thus including telephone companies within the operation of the above sections.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 398.

Civil Code—Section 549: The change consists in the omission of the two sentences following the word "charge," line 9, which are now a part of the section, said sentences having been superseded by the provisions of the Constitution of 1879, providing for the mode in which water rates shall be fixed.

Civil Code—Section 550: This section is an expression of the constitutional provisions found in the Constitution of 1849, respecting the right of corporations to use streets for laying water pipes.

Civil Code—Section 551: The design of the amendment is to better express the purpose of the present section and to remove the objections that it may be unconstitutional in investing the supervisors with an arbitrary power to require or not require bridges, and to supply the present defect in not providing any means of coercing the performance of the duty created.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 482.

Civil Code—Section 613: The change consists in the insertion after "of," in line 15, of the words "a majority of the board of directors of the corporation owning said cemetery," in place of "the owners of such lots," lines 15 and 16, and the substitution of the words "with the consent of a majority of said directors," after "lot," in line 17. The change is made with the desire of conforming the section to the Statute of 1891, page 264.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 687.

Civil Code—Section 2161: The change consists in the insertion of the words "or telephone" after "telegraph" in two places (lines 4 and 6), thus making the section applicable to both telegraph and telephone companies.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 389.

Civil Code—Sections 453d, 453e, 453f, 453g, 453h, 453i, 453j, 453k, 453l, 453m, 453n, 453o, and 453p: The above sections are a codification of the Statute of 1891, page 126, relating to life, health, accident, and annuity or endowment insurance on the assessment plan. They are placed in a new chapter, entitled "Life, Health, Accident, and Annuity or Endowment Insurance on the Assessment Plan."

Respectfully submitted.

ON RULES AND REGULATIONS.

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, February 8.

MR. SPEAKER: Your Committee on Rules and Regulations, to whom was referred the resolution offered by Mr. McCartney, have had the same under consideration, and respectfully report the same back, accompanied by the following report of the Chief Clerk:

MCCARTNEY, Chairman.

That, WHEREAS, several newspapers of this State have published from time to time statements to the effect that this House is negligent concerning its business, general public duties, and the welfare of the people, and that this House is far behind with its business as compared with other sessions as to the amount of business transacted at this date of the session, and in view of such statements and publications, currently reported, it is

Resolved, That the Committee on Rules and Regulations be, and said committee is, hereby directed to report to this House, on the next legislative day, the exact condition and progress of the business of this House as compared with the Senate and other sessions of the Legislature.

REPORT ON THE CONDITION OF THE ASSEMBLY FILES COMPARED WITH PREVIOUS SESSIONS.

H. S. G. MCCARTNEY, Chairman Committee on Rules and Regulations:

DEAR SIR: In compliance with your request, I have made an exhaustive examination of the records of the session of the Assembly of two years ago, for the purpose of making a comparison of the work of that session and this, the thirty-sixth session, up to the present time.

I find, taking the thirty-seventh day of the two sessions as a basis for calculations, that the work of this session is more than 100 per cent advanced over that of last session. Considering the fact that there had been one hundred and thirty-two more bills introduced on the thirty-seventh day of the present session than on the corresponding day of last session, the actual work done by the Assembly to date is more than double that of two years ago.

On the thirty-seventh day of the thirty-fifth session, seven hundred and twenty-six (726) bills had been introduced, of which four hundred and seven (407) had been considered and reported by committees, and twenty-eight (28) passed. On the thirty-seventh day of the present session, eight hundred and fifty-eight (858) bills had been introduced, four hundred and seventy-one (471) of which had been reported back, and sixty-one (61) finally passed.

Two years ago, on the thirty-seventh day, 3.8 per cent of the bills introduced, up to that time, had been passed. On the thirty-seventh day of the present session, 7.1 per cent of the bills introduced had been passed.

While the present Assembly was several days late in getting down to work, excellent progress has been made, and the work is now well advanced when considered in connection with the work at former sessions.

Yours very truly,

CLIO LLOYD, Chief Clerk.

On motion of Mr. McCartney the report as submitted was ordered printed in the Journal.

PROPOSITION No. 3.

In addition to recommending the improvements to the State Capitol building, as set forth under Proposition No. 2, we further recommend the erection in the near future of an appropriate building for the State Library and the Appellate Court. This building should be erected upon the site now occupied by the State Printing Office and Pavilion.

The proper location for the State Printing Office should be near the water-front and railroad, for which a plain brick loft, inexpensive structure, should be erected.

The Pavilion can readily be removed at no distant date, since a similar building will in all probability be erected upon the recently purchased State Fair Grounds. There will practically be no use for the present Pavilion, and it is a constant source of expense to the State for repairs.

In conclusion, we suggest that all wooden shelving and filing cases throughout the State Capitol be replaced by steel furniture, as a precaution against fire.

Respectfully submitted.

R. A. HEROLD,
Associated Architects.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE—(OUT OF ORDER).

The Committee on Rules and Regulations was granted leave to present the following report, out of order, which was read:

ON RULES AND REGULATIONS.

(Giving statistics of bills acted on for various sessions.)

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, February 13, 1905.

MR. SPEAKER: Your Committee on Rules and Regulations, to whom was referred a resolution concerning the progress of the business of this House, have had the same under consideration, and report as follows:

To THE SPEAKER: I respectfully suggest that you read the accompanying statistics of the sessions of the Assembly for the years 1901, 1903, and 1905.

The figures set forth as totals, third, second, and first readings, have been carefully compiled from the printed Assembly Journals for those years, and the printed Senate Journals for the present year.

I submit that the members of this body who have been censured for non-action and lack of industry as State officers were unjustly so censured, and I ask that they be given those figures and comparisons that they may be able to disprove further misstatements regarding our legislative work.

Total number of readings of bills by the Assembly during its thirty-fourth, thirty-fifth, and thirty-sixth sessions, respectively (during the first forty days):

1901—1,241 readings.

1903—1,271 readings.

1905—1,659 readings.

The present body in total number of readings for first forty days exceeded that of the Assembly of 1901 during the same length of time by 418, or 34 per cent, and that of the Assembly of 1903 by 388, or 30 per cent.

During the said period the Assembly of 1901 had 191 second readings of Assembly bills and 61 second readings of Senate bills.

The Assembly of 1903 had 253 second readings of Assembly bills and 35 second readings of Senate bills.

While the present Assembly had 367 second readings of Assembly bills and 34 second readings of Senate bills.

This body exceeding that of 1901 in second readings of bills by 149, or 60 per cent, and that of 1903 by 113, or 40 per cent.

In the third reading of bills the records for the first forty days show:

That the Assembly of 1901 had 130.

That the Assembly of 1903 had 105.

That the Assembly of 1905 had 251, or 16 more than the two bodies of 1901 and 1903 combined, during such first 40 days of their sessions.

Compared with the present Senate this body has to its credit the following comparisons:

Assembly (1905), first readings of bills, 1007.

Senate (1905), first readings of bills, 948 (of which 190 were Assembly Bills transmitted it, and were therefore forced first readings, against but 74 Senate Bills transmitted for first reading to this body).

Assembly (1905), second readings of bills, 401.

Senate (1905), second readings of bills, 227, or 174 more, equaling 76 per cent more than the Senate.

Assembly (1905), third readings of bills, 251.

Senate (1905), third readings of bills, 101, or 150 more, equaling 150 per cent more than the Senate.

McCARTNEY, Chairman.

"Any person may apply to said Controller to purchase the said property, or some portion thereof, by a written application in duplicate, and which said application shall be accompanied with the sum of one hundred dollars. One copy of said application shall be filed in the office of said Controller. Within five days after the receipt of said application and said one hundred dollars the said Controller shall forward one copy of said application to a judge of the superior court of the county or city and county in which said property or some part thereof is situated, and said one hundred dollars to the treasurer of said county or city and county; and said judge shall thereupon appoint three disinterested persons to appraise the said property, or such part thereof to purchase which application has been made, and said persons so appointed shall thereupon proceed to appraise the said property, or such portion thereof to purchase which application has been made, and to report in writing to said judge their judgment as to the value of said property; and which appraisal and report shall be made to said judge within twenty days after the appointment of said appraisers. Before entering upon their duties as provided herein, the said appraisers shall take and subscribe an oath that they are not interested in the purchase of said lands or any part thereof; and that they will truly and fairly appraise the same. For their services and expenses in said matter the said appraisers shall be entitled to the sum of eight dollars each, for which amount the auditor of said county, or city and county, shall draw his warrant in their favor on the treasurer of said county, or city and county. Immediately upon receipt by him of said appraisal and report the said judge shall forward the same to the said Controller, who shall thereupon file the same in his office. Upon the receipt of such appraisal and report the Controller may thereupon, by a written authorization, direct the tax collector of the county, or city and county, to sell the property, or any part thereof as in his judgment he shall deem advisable, in the manner following: He must give notice of such sale by first publishing a notice for at least three successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county, or city and county, or if there be no newspaper published therein, then by posting a notice in three conspicuous places in the county, or city and county, one of which shall be at the United States Postoffice nearest the land (in addition to a notice conspicuously posted on the land itself), for the same period; provided, that in all cases notice of said sale shall also be given to the person to whom the said property or any part thereof was assessed for the year next preceding the time of said sale so noticed by serving a copy of said notice in the manner provided for the service of summons in civil actions, if personal service can be made, and if personal service can not be made, then notice may be served in the same manner as summons may be served by publication in civil actions. The said notices to be so posted and served and published, where publication is required, must state specifically the place and date and hour of sale, and shall contain a description of the property to be sold, and shall contain a detailed statement of all the delinquent taxes, penalties, costs, and expenses up to the date of said sale, and shall give the name of the person to whom the same was assessed for each year the same was sold to the State, and shall also embody a copy of the authorization received from the Controller. At the time set forth for such sale the tax collector must sell the said property described in the authorization and said notice at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in lawful money of the United States, but no bids shall be received or accepted at such sale for less than twenty-five per cent of the amount for which said land was appraised, as aforesaid, nor in any event less than the amount of all the taxes levied upon such property and all interest, costs, and penalties, and expenses up to the date of such sale."

And if the owner, or any of the persons named in section three

If the party making the application to purchase as aforesaid becomes the purchaser at the said sale, then the said sum of one hundred dollars deposited by him shall be applied on the payment of the price for which he purchases said property; provided, that if the price for which said property is sold to said person making said application is less than one hundred dollars, then the difference between said purchase price and said one hundred dollars shall be returned and refunded to him. If the said person making the said application to purchase as aforesaid does not, at said sale, bid and pay the minimum to be bid and paid for said property as herein provided for, he shall be deemed to have forfeited the said sum of one hundred dollars deposited by him to the county or city and county wherein said property is situated. At any time prior to the sale of said property as herein provided, redemption of the property may be made by the persons and in the manner provided by sections three thousand seven hundred and eighty and three thousand eight hundred and seventeen of the Political Code."

In any such removal election, the candidate receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. At such election if some other person than the incumbent receives the highest number of votes, the incumbent shall thereupon be deemed removed from office upon qualification of his successor. In case the party who receives the highest number of votes should fail to qualify within ten days after receiving notification of election, the office shall be deemed vacant. MR. SPEAKER: Your select committee of five, to whom was referred the resolutions offered by Mr. Waste, to cite A. A. A. Taylor in the "Santa Cruz Surf," on February 8th and 10th, concerning said committee and the members thereof.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE—(OUT OF ORDER).

The Committee on State Hospitals and Asylums submitted (out of order) the following report:

ON STATE HOSPITALS AND ASYLUMS.

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, February 15, 1905.

MR. SPEAKER: Your Committee on State Hospitals and Asylums, which was heretofore granted leave of absence to visit certain of the State institutions under their jurisdiction, beg leave to report that on the 3d day of February, 1905, your committee, consisting of Held (chairman), Cromwell, King, Severance, Strobridge, Mitcheltree, Gates, Meincke, Pfaeffe, Pryor, and Jones of Tuolumne as substitute for Beardslee, did visit the Industrial Home of Mechanical Trades for the Adult Blind of California; that thereafter, and on the 6th day of February, 1905, the said above named did visit the Southern California State Hospital, at Highlands, in the County of San Bernardino, State of California; and thereafter, on the 8th day of February, 1905, your said committee did visit the Stockton State Hospital, in the County of San Joaquin, State of California; that at all of said places your committee did carefully inquire into the necessity for the appropriations asked for of your body, and now report as follows:

That we find that the appropriation asked for the Industrial Home of Mechanical Trades for the Adult Blind contemplates the sum of $35,000 for the erection of a dormitory for the use of said institution, and also the sum of $25,000 for the erection of a workshop for said institution.

In our opinion, there is no immediate necessity for the erection of said dormitory or the appropriation of the sum asked for said purpose, for the reason that the said institution can amply meet all the requirements placed upon it for said purposes. We are of the opinion, however, that it is necessary that an appropriation of $25,000 be made for the purpose of erecting a workshop at said institution. We find that there is now upon said premises a wooden building used as a workshop; that this building is insufficient for the purpose for which it is used; that it is a fire trap and that its construction is such that it will be dangerous to the inmates of said institution to continue to work therein. In said building is now located stock and machinery of the value of about $6,000. For the safety of the contents of said building and the welfare of the inmates of the institution and their protection against fire and a collapse of said building, we believe that suitable accommodations should be provided for said workshop. We commend the maintenance of said workshop, and believe it affords to the inmates of the institution a means of sustaining themselves. We find that in November, 1901, there was granted to said institution the sum of $3,450 to open said workshop for the manufacture of brooms. We find that since that time there has been paid to the inmates of said institution the sum of $17,000 in wages, and that there is now on hand bills receivable and stock of the value of $12,000. The average monthly wage of the inmates is $10 each. All these results are obtained without cost to the State, except the initial expenditure of $3,450 above stated, and the cost of support of the inmates of said institution. We recommend that all State institutions purchase their brooms at this home.

At the Southern California State Hospital there was appropriated two years ago the sum of $110,000 for the construction of additional buildings. We find that this money has been wisely expended, and that of said sum of $110,000 appropriated there will remain on hand unexpended the sum of $30,000.

We find at said institution there are now 535 male patients; that 294 can be conveniently and comfortably accommodated; that 64 patients are sleeping on floors, 49 in the basement, 46 in unprotected corridors, and 12 in the dining room. We find that there are 267 female patients in said institution; that 180 can be conveniently and comfortably accommodated; that 28 of said patients sleep in unprotected corridors, 11 in the attic, and one on the floor. We find, also, that the building now in process of construction will accommodate 60 patients, and will permit 40 additional patients to be accommodated in quarters now occupied for offices, which offices will be transferred to the new building. We believe, therefore, that it is necessary that there be expended the sum asked for, $65,000, for an east wing for the accommodation of further patients at said institution. The sum of $5,000 is also asked for for the erection of a dairy building and the purchase of equipment therefor for said institution. We believe that for said sum a modern dairy building and equipments can be constructed and procured. We feel that every public institution should be so equipped.

At the Stockton State Hospital we find that there are 1717 patients, 1142 being male and 575 female. For this institution an appropriation of $40,000 is asked for the purchase of lands upon which to erect cottages and said land to be used for farm purposes. The said hospital is located upon 110 acres of land within the city limits of the City of Stockton. The officers in charge contemplate, if a sufficient appropriation is made, an alteration in the course of the treatment of the patients of said institution. It is sought to erect cottages upon the land to be purchased and to treat said patients in said cottages rather than collectively in a large building. It is necessary that said institution be permitted to expand, as it is now crowded to the full limit. Beyond its present confines it cannot go, inasmuch as the lands of the hospital are entirely surrounded by valuable city property. It is therefore necessary, if there be expansion, that premises be purchased at a distance from the hospital. Room must be made for the patients on said premises and for those to come in the future. We believe it would be well that said institution have a farm at which its inmates may be employed. We have carefully inquired into the cost of lands in the vicinity of said asylum, and believe that the sum of $40,000 is necessary for the purchase of sufficient land for the purposes indicated. We suggest that the matter of the purchase of said land, if the sum requested be appropriated, be left in the hands of the State Board of Lunacy. We do not feel called upon at this time to recommend any particular tract, and prefer that that matter be left to the said board, as above stated.

Respectfully submitted.

MITCHELTREE, MEINCKE,
SEVERANCE, STROBRIDGE,
PFAEFFLE,

JONES of Tuolumne,

SPECIAL REPORT EXPLAINING CODE REVISION BILLS.

The Committee on Revision and Reform of Laws submitted the following special report, which was ordered printed in the Journal:

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, February 20, 1905.

MR. SPEAKER: Your Committee on Revision and Reform of Laws hereby makes a special report with reference to the Code Revision bills, now on the special file of said bills. The changes, etc., are as follows:

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 484.

Civil Code—Section 638a: This section is a codification of Section 19 of the Statute of 1893, page 229.

Civil Code—Section 643: The last sentence of the present section has been omitted for the reason that it occurs in Subdivision 19 of Section 690 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Civil Code—Section 648½: This section is no longer necessary; the statute referred to therein, to wit: that on 1877-8, page 955, having been repealed. (Stats. 1897, p. 243.)

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 483.

Civil Code—Sections, 629, 630a, 631, and 632: The purpose of the amendment is to make the above sections applicable to electric as well as to gas-light corporations. To accomplish this, the following changes have been made: In Section 629 the words "or direct or primary wire" are inserted after "main" (line 13), and the words "or electricity" are inserted in two places after "gas" (lines 15, 20). Section 630a is a new section, to extend the provisions of the chapter "Electric Light Companies" and provide for advances similar to those made to gas companies by subscribers. In Section 631 the words "any owner or manager of gas or electric works, or agent of such owner or manager, exhibiting written authority, signed by such owner or manager, or" are inserted at the beginning of the section (lines 30 to 32); the words "or electric light" are inserted after "gas," in line 33; the words "or electricity" are inserted after "gas," in line 35, and the words "or electric meters" are inserted after "meters," in line 37. In Section 632 the words "or electricity" are added after "gas" in three places (lines 43, 47 and 51), and the word "wires" is inserted after "pipes," in line 45.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 885.

Code of Civil Procedure—Chapter IV, Title IV, Part III: This is merely codification of the provisions concerning foreclosure of liens in the Statutes of 1873-4, p. 499, and 1901, p. 285, relating to cruelty to animals, the penal features whereof have already been codified into the Penal Code (Senate Bill No. 453) and the civil features into the Civil Code (Assembly Bill No. 481). The three bills are companion bills.

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 498.

(Amended in Assembly February 16, 1905—Unfinished Business.)

Civil Code—Section 1275: The change consists in the insertion of the word "that" before "corporation," in line 5, and in the insertion of the words "counties, municipal corporations and corporations" after "that," in line 5. The amendment in substance incorporates into the section the provisions of the Act of 1881, page 2, authorizing the several counties, cities and counties, cities and towns, of the State, to receive property by gift, bequest and devise.

Civil Code—Section 1276: The change consists in the substitution of the words "the same" in place of "his name" after "sign," in line 16. The purpose of the amendment is to avoid the strict construction given to Subdivision 4 in Estate of Walker, 110 Cal. 387.

Civil Code—Section 1285: The change consists in the insertion of all the matter after the word "chapter," in line 4, the purpose being merely to state what has always been understood to be the rule in this State respecting bequests of personal property, viz: that it may be bequeathed in accordance with the law of the testator's domicile.

Civil Code—Section 1300: The change consists in the omission of the word "unmarried" before "women," in line 3. The purpose of the amendment is to apply the same rule to wills executed by married and unmarried women with respect to the revocation by subsequent marriage. (Page 2, Assembly Bill No. 498.)

Civil Code—Section 1306: The change consists in the addition of the last sentence (lines 9 to 12) and is intended to change the rule of Smith vs. Olmstead, 83 Cal. 582.

Civil Code—Section 1307: The change consists in the addition of the last sentence (lines 8 to 12). See note to preceding section.

Civil Code—Section 1314: The provisions of this section are new, and are limited to cases where a conviction for murder in the first degree has been had.

Civil Code—Section 1327: The change consists in the addition of the clause following the word "intention," in line 5, and provides that the words in a will need not be taken in a technical sense, if it appears to have been drawn by the testator, and that he was unacquainted with such sense.

Civil Code—Section 1364: The change consists in the transposition of the words "within four years after the deviser's death" by striking them out at the end of the section, where they now appear, and placing them after the word "unless," in line 7.

Civil Code—Section 1376: The change consists in the addition of the clause following the word "state," in line 5, and has been rendered necessary by the proposed amendment to Section 1285.

SENATE BILL No. 165.

Penal Code—Section 303: The section is in conflict with Section 18 of Article XX of the Constitution, which provides that "no person shall, on account of sex, be disqualified from entering upon or pursuing any lawful business, vocation or profession." (See ex parte Maguire, 57 Cal. 604.)

SENATE BILL No. 166.

Penal Code—Section 306: This section is explicitly held to be in conflict with Section 18 of Article XX of the Constitution, in ex parte Maguire, 57 Cal. 604, 609.

SENATE BILL No. 167.

Penal Code—Section 310½: This section was explicitly held to be unconstitutional in ex parte Jentzsch, 112 Cal. 468.

SENATE BILL No. 252.

Penal Code—Section 654: Approved March 30, 1874: There are now in this Code two sections each numbered 654. The change consists in renumbering the one approved March 30, 1874, to read 653b.

SENATE BILL No. 458.

Penal Code—Section 529: The change consists in the insertion of the words "in either his private or official capacity," after "another," in line 3, the amendment being designed with the purpose of changing the construction put upon this section in People vs. Knox, 119 Cal. 73, where it was held that the section did not apply to a case where a person falsely assumes an official character.

Penal Code—Section 530: With the same object in view, the words "in either his private or official capacity" have been inserted after "another," in line 3.

Penal Code—Section 532: The amendment is intended to make it criminal to procure the labor or services of another, or to defraud him of real property, by representations known to be false. With respect to real property, this changes the rule announced in People vs. Cummings, 114 Cal. 437. The change consists in the addition of the words "whether real or personal," after "property," in line 5.

Penal Code—Section 537: There are two sections numbered 537. The one regarding the removal of mortgaged chattels is repealed, the matter contained in it being sufficiently provided for in Section 538.

Penal Code—Section 537a: Section 537½ is renumbered 537a, the word "valuable" is substituted for "legal," before "consideration," in line 11. Sec. 2 is omitted because not properly a part of the Penal Code.

Penal Code—Section 538: The amendment extends the operation of the section to cases where personal property is taken, removed or driven from the county in which it is mortgaged with the intention of defrauding the mortgagee. The change consists in the addition of the words "with intent to defraud the mortgagee, his representatives or assigns, takes, drives, carries away, or otherwise removes or permits the taking, driving, or carrying away, or other removal of the mortgaged property, or any part thereof, from the county where it was situated when mortgaged, without the written consent of the mortgagee, or who," in lines 9 to 15 of the section.

Penal Code—Section 538a: Section 538½ is renumbered 538a.

Penal Code—Section 538b: This section consists of the matter now in Section 543½. The change is made by placing the matter in a section in the proper chapter. By some inadvertence the Legislature placed it in the chapter providing for the punishment of persons fraudulently fitting out or destroying vessels.

SENATE BILL No. 477.

Penal Code—Section 954: The amendment is designed to authorize an offense to be set forth under different counts, and to excuse the prosecution from electing between them. Justice Shaw of the Supreme Court strongly urges the change.

Penal Code—Section 969: This is the section as it existed prior to its repeal in 1880. It is believed that no good reason for such repeal existed.

Penal Code—Section 1004: The change consists in the insertion of the words "except as provided in Section 954," after "warden," in line 13. The object of the amendment is to make this section conform to the proposed change in Section 954.

Penal Code—Section 1008: The purpose of the amendment is to authorize, where a demurrer to an indictment is sustained, the re-submission of the charge to the grand jury which found the original indictment, if it has not been discharged. This amendment changes the rule announced in Terrill vs. Superior Court (60 Pac. Rep. 516). To accomplish this, the words "the same or" have been inserted before the word "another," in line 8.

Penal Code—Section 1020: The change consists in the substitution of the word "one" for "that," before "specified," in line 4.

Penal Code—Section 1025: This is the section as it existed prior to its repeal in 1880. By such repeal no provision was left for any plea to a charge of former conviction, and it is believed this should be provided for in the Code.

SENATE BILL No. 14.

Penal Code—Section 7: The purpose of the amendment is to make the section conform to the corresponding sections of the Civil Code and of the Code of Civil Procedure. The changes consist in the addition, line 8, of the words "county includes city and county"; page 1, line 9, of the words "and typewriting"; and on page 2, lines 15 to 19, of the clause "provided, that when a signature is made by mark it must, in order that the same may be acknowledged or serve as the signature to any sworn statement, be witnessed by two persons who must subscribe their own names as witnesses thereto." The above changes make the above section conform to the corresponding subdivision in Section 17 of the Code of Civil Procedure and in Section 14 of the Civil Code. The definitions of "night-time" and "day-time" are added in Subdivision 13, following the definitions in Sections 450 and 463 of this Code, which confined the definition to the chapters in which they occurred. The word "canal-boat," in line 50 of page 2, is printed "canals, boats," in the official Statutes of 1873-4, page 421, amending the section, and is hereby corrected to conform to the manifest intention of the Statute, and to the original form of the section as enacted in the Code of 1872. Subdivision XX is also added to correspond with a like provision in the other Codes.

SENATE BILL No. 120.

Penal Code—Section 27: The amendment consists in a recasting of Subdivision 2, designed to make it punishable in this State to embezzle money in another State and bring the money embezzled or some part of it into this State. The section as it now stands authorizes the conviction and punishment of persons committing larceny or robbery outside the State, who bring the property stolen into this State, but does not extend to the case of embezzlement.

SENATE BILL No. 134.

Penal Code—Sections 1573 to 1614: The above-named sections, which compose Title I of Part III of the Penal Code, with the exception of the last sentence of Section 1593, have been completely superseded by the Constitution of 1879 and the General Statutes in pursuance thereof. The portion of Section 1593 which is still in force has been incorporated into a bill to amend the Act of 1889, page 404, concerning the State prisons, Senate Bill No. 353, so that it will be preserved, notwithstanding the repeal of these superseded and therefore useless provisions.

SENATE BILL No. 135.

(Amended in Senate, January 26, 1905.)

Penal Code—Section 74a: This is a codification of the provision of the Act of 1871-2, page 951, with the following changes: the word "accepts" is inserted in place of "keeps," in line 4, and the phrase "for his own use" is added after "retains," in line 4.

SENATE BILL No. 136.

Penal Code—Section 76: The change consists in the addition of the clause "or willfully and unlawfully withholds or detains from his successor, or other person entitled thereto, any money or property in his custody as such officer," in lines 9 to 12, inclusive. The section as it now stands makes it punishable only for an officer to retain writings or records appertaining or belonging to his office, but does not extend to the manifestly graver offense above noted.

SENATE BILL No. 137.

Penal Code—Section 100: The change consists in the omission of the word "said" before "superintendent," in line 1, the insertion of the word "chapter" in place of "act" in line 9, and the omission of the phrase "in any court of competent jurisdiction," at the end of the line, it being entirely unnecessary.

SENATE BILL No. 139.

Penal Code—Section 109: The amendment is designed to make it punishable to assist the escape of inmates of reformatories, and to accomplish this end the following insertions have been made: In lines 4 and 5 the words "or jail, or reformatory"; in line 5, the words "or any person"; and in lines 7 and 8, the words "or jail, or public training school, or reformatory."

Penal Code—Section 110: The change is in line with the proposed change in Section 109. In line 4, the words "jail, public training school, or reformatory" are inserted; in line 6, the words "or inmate" are added after "prisoner."

SENATE BILL No. 140.

Penal Code—Section 111: The change consists in the insertion of the words "and of the execution of the sentence of such convict," after "convict," in line 9, and substitution of the words "judge of the superior court of such county" for "superior judge of said county," in line 11. It is manifestly proper that the county should be recouped for the expenses covered by the amendment.

SENATE BILL No. 141.

Penal Code—Section 118a: The object of this new section is to punish those who instigate litigation by making false affidavits respecting the facts to which they will testify, and is made necessary by the decision of the Supreme Court in People vs. Simpton, 133 Cal. 367.

Penal Code—Section 119: The change consists in the substitution of the words "two sections" for "section" in line 3. The change is made necessary by the addition of Section 118a to the Code.

Penal Code—Section 121: The matter following the word "manner," in line 4, is new. The object of the amendment is to cut off the defense sometimes successfully made in perjury cases, that the defendant did not in fact go before the officer and take oath, it being at the same time admitted that he sent the affidavit to the officer with the intention that he should certify to it, and with the intention that it should be used as valid.

Penal Code—Section 124: The change consists in the addition of the word "affidavit," in line 3. The purpose is of the same character as that of the amendment to the preceding section.

Penal Code—Section 129: The object of the section is similar to that of the proposed amendment to Section 121. (See People vs. Simpton, 133 Cal. 367.)

SENATE BILL NO. 142.

Penal Code—Section 159a: The change consists in the substitution of the word "annulment" for "nullity," in lines 9 and 12, and the substitution of "section" for "act" in line 14.

SENATE BILL NO. 151.

Penal Code—Section 161a: This section, which is a new one, is self-explanatory.

SENATE BILL NO. 152.

Penal Code—Section 165: The word "public" is inserted before the word "corporation," in line 5, as the section was undoubtedly intended to apply to bodies and authorities of a public character.

The words "of which is afterward to be considered by" are inserted in lines 7 and 8. The words "upon any understanding that his official vote, opinion, judgment, or action shall be influenced thereby, or shall be given in any particular manner or upon any particular side of any question or matter, upon which he may be required to act in his official capacity," inserted in lines 10 to 14, were not in the report of the original Code Commission, but were inserted as a committee amendment two years ago.

The words "in addition to said punishment," inserted in line 17, were likewise inserted by said committee.

The first two changes are Code revision; the last two changes are, in a measure, new legislation, but we think them good.

SENATE BILL NO. 153.

Penal Code—Section 169: "Presentment" is stricken out and "information," line 5, inserted in its place, for the reason that under the Constitution of 1879 there is no prosecution by presentment, that portion of this section (originally passed in 1872) having been superseded by the Constitution.

SENATE BILL NO. 154.

Penal Code—Section 171: The scope of the section is broadened by the insertion of the words "jail or reformatory in this State," in line 5, and the words "literature or reading matter," in line 7.

Penal Code—Sections 171a, 171b, 171c, and 180a: Sections 171a, 171b, and 171c contain the matter now contained in Section 180a, and also a codification of the provisions of the Act of 1895, page 92.

SENATE BILL NO. 156.

Penal Code—Sections 178 and 179: These sections were, in the Circuit Court of the United States, Ninth Judicial District, explicitly held to be in violation of the Constitution of the United States, on May 22, 1880. (In re Parrott, 5 Pac. Coast L. J. 161.) They are now obsolete. An ordinance in somewhat similar terms was also held unconstitutional in ex parte Kerboch, 85 Cal. 274.

SENATE BILL NO. 157.

Penal Code—Section 207: Two amendments: inserting in line 5, the words "or into another part of the same county," and inserting beginning with the word "and," line 15, and ending with the word "thereof," line 19.

The advisability of the first change is shown by the decision of the Supreme Court in ex parte Keil, 85 Cal. 309, where it was held that the forcible removal of a person from San Pedro, Los Angeles County, to Santa Catalina Island, in the same county, did not constitute kidnapping. These changes are asked for by the District Attorneys' Association.

SENATE BILLS NOS. 158, 159, AND 160.

Penal Code—Sections 214, 218, and 219: Section 218 has been broken up into three sections, contained, respectively, in the three bills above named.

Penal Code—Section 214: In view of the criticism passed by the Supreme Court in the case of People vs. Thompson, 111 Cal. 242, upon Section 218, and the suggestion of that court that the section be revised, there has been taken out of that section the provisions regarding robbery and the same has been amplified and made a new section, numbered 214, to be placed in Chapter IV, of Title VII, of Part I.

In the new section the punishment is not prescribed as death or imprisonment for life at the option of the jury, as in Section 218; but the grade of the offense is fixed at felony simply, it having been found that the severity of the punishment results in failure to secure convictions.

Penal Code—Section 218: The section as amended provides only for attempted wrecking or derailment of railroad trains, and fixes the grade of the offense as felony simply, the matters formerly in the section regarding an accomplished or consummated wrecking or derailment being left to Section 219 (Senate Bill No. 160), and the provisions regarding robbery being provided for in Section 214 (Senate Bill No. 158).

Penal Code—Section 219: The section contains the matter now in Section 218 regarding an accomplished or consummated wrecking or derailment. The punishment is left at death or imprisonment for life, at the option of the jury, as now provided in Section 218.

In short, these three bills split up Section 218 in the manner suggested by Judge Garoutte in People vs. Thompson, 111 Cal. 242, and modify the penalty of train wrecking, where no death has occurred, so as to preclude failures to convict on account of the severity of the penalty.

SENATE BILL No. 161.

Penal Code—Sections 266a, 266b, 266c, 266d, 266e, and 266f: The Statute of 1893, page 217, regarding the compulsory prostitution of women, is codified in the above-named sections. The penalties here set forth in Sections 266d, 266e, and 266f, are those of a felony instead of the various penalties set forth in the corresponding sections of the Act codified.

Penal Code—Section 266g: This section codifies the Statute of 1891, page 285, regarding the placing and keeping of married women in houses of prostitution.

SENATE BILL No. 164.

Penal Code—Section 302: The change consists in the omission of the word "noise" before the word "profane," in line 4, it being manifestly an error in the statute, as it occurs later in the section with a qualification, lines 5 and 6.

SENATE BILL No. 359.

Penal Code—Section 653a: This is a new section, codifying, word for word, the eight-hour law passed at the last session (Statutes of 1903, page 119).

Penal Code—Section 653d: This is a new section, codifying the Statute of 1871-2, page 951, to protect wages of labor, inserting, however, in line 4, the words "for his own use," to make same conform to intention of original Act.

SENATE BILL No. 375.

Penal Code—Section 666: The amendment consists in the substitution, in line 11, of the word "five" for "ten." At the last session of the Legislature, Sections 666 and 667 were changed, the former being amended, and the latter repealed. Through a mistake in copying the proposed amendment to Section 666, the section, as it now stands, leaves a large class of cases unprovided for. The word "ten," on the fourth line of Subdivision 1, has been changed to "five" (line 11 of the bill), so that where the punishment for a first conviction would be six, seven, eight, nine, or ten years, some penalty shall attach; for a second conviction for an offense punishable, say by seven, or even ten years, entails no penalty. Judge Carroll Cook called the attention of the Commissioner to the error, and requested the amendment.

SENATE BILL No. 376.

Code of Civil Procedure—Section 1579: The only change consists in the substitution of the word "ten" for "five," in line 51, to make this section correspond with the present form of Section 718 of the Civil Code, which was amended in 1903. Whoever amended the latter section at the last session of the Legislature forgot to amend this section of the Code of Civil Procedure to correspond with it.

SENATE BILL No. 451.

Penal Code—Section 597g: The Statute of 1873-4, page 228, to prevent stallions running at large, and of 1887-8, page 437, respecting buck goats, and of 1871-2, page 63, to provide for the keeping of stallions, are codified in this section, and makes the law concerning the running at large of stallions in Sacramento and Mono counties, by extending its provisions to the State at large.

SENATE BILL No. 454.

Penal Code—Section 512: The change consists in the insertion of the words "or an indictment found by a grand jury," after "magistrate," in line 6.

Penal Code—Section 513: The change consists in the insertion of the words "or an indictment found by a grand jury," after "magistrate," in line 4.

Penal Code—Section 514: The amendment substitutes "in" for "under" before the word "this," in line 13, thus making a person convicted of embezzlement ineligible to any office in this State, whether it be a State office or not.

SENATE BILL No. 455.

Penal Code—Section 487: The change consists in the addition of subdivision 4, which is a codification of the Statute of 1871-2, page 435, and the insertion of the words "or in his immediate presence" after "another," in line 7.

Penal Code—Section 500: The change consists in the omission of the words "in the City and County of San Francisco" after "who," in the line 3, thus making the statute general.

Penal Code—Sections 502½ and 502: Section 502½ is renumbered 502.

SENATE BILL No. 456.

Penal Code—Section 591: The change consists in the insertion of the words "or telephone, or any other line used to conduct electricity," in lines 4 and 5.

Penal Code—Section 593a: This is a codification of the Statute of 1875-6, page 32, relating to the protection of lumber manufacturers.

SENATE BILL No. 457.

Penal Code—Section 564: The amendment is intended to incorporate in the section such provisions of the Act of 1877-8, page 695, as are not already sufficiently expressed therein. The statute, however, is limited to corporations whose stock is listed on the stock board or exchange. The amendment omits this limitation, for the reason that its constitutionality is doubtful.

SENATE BILL No. 467.

Penal Code—Section 598a: This is a codification of the Statute of 1897, page 37, for the protection of Antwerp messenger or homing pigeons.

Penal Code—Section 599: The Statute of 1875-6, page 287, to protect sea-gulls in the neighborhood of Santa Monica, and the Statute of 1889, page 205, to prevent the destruction of blue cranes, are codified in this section.

SENATE BILL No. 468.

Penal Code—Section 601: The present Section 601 is amended to conform it to Section 8 of the Statute of 1887, page 110, to protect life and property against the careless and malicious use or handling of dynamite and other explosives.

SENATE BILL No. 469.

Penal Code—Section 602: The change consists in the addition of the eighth and ninth subdivisions. The eighth subdivision is a codification of the Act of 1871-2, page 384, and the ninth is a codification of part of Section 3 of the Act of 1875-76, page 408, to prevent hunting upon enclosed lands.

Penal Code—Section 603: The section as it now stands declares that certain injuries to trees on the lands of the United States, including the cutting of them, do not constitute public offenses. This is a proper subject for regulation by the United States, and it is obviously improper for the State to undertake to legalize trespasses upon, or injuries to, the public lands of the Federal Government.

SENATE BILL No. 470.

Penal Code—Section 609: The amendment incorporates the provisions of the Act of 1873-4, page 619, for the protection of buoys and beacons.

SENATE BILL No. 471.

Penal Code—Section 619: The change consists in the insertion of the words "or telephonic," after "telegraphic," in line 4.

Penal Code—Section 620: The change consists in the insertion of the words "or telephonic," after "telegraphic," in line 4.

Penal Code—Section 621: The change consists in the insertion of the words "or telephonic," before "office," in line 4.

Penal Code—Section 638: The change consists in the insertion of the words "or telephone," before "office," in line 4.

Penal Code—Section 639: The change consists in the insertion of the words "or telephone," before "office," in line 4.

Penal Code—Section 640: The change consists in the addition of the words "or telephone," before "line," in line 7, and before "office," in line 10.

Penal Code—Section 641: The change consists in the insertion of the words "or telephone," before "act," in line 5.

SENATE BILL No. 472.

Penal Code—Section 758: The design of the amendment is to broaden the scope of the section so as to include State officers not otherwise provided for, and to specify the grand jury which shall make the accusation. To accomplish this purpose the word "State" has been inserted before "district," in line 3; the words "other than those mentioned in section seven hundred and thirty-seven" have been inserted before the word "for," in line 5, and the words "or, if a State officer, by the grand jury of the County of Sacramento," after the word "appointed," in line 9.

Penal Code—Section 769: The change consists in the insertion of the words "and disqualified from holding any office of honor, trust, or profit within the State," after the word "office," in line 5.

Penal Code—Section 772: This section provides for the removal of public officers in a summary manner, by an accusation in writing presented by any person to the superior court. The repeal of this section is advocated for the reason that the proceeding by accusation presented by the grand jury, provided for in Section 758, seems to be sufficient.

SENATE BILL No. 473.

Penal Code—Section 777: The amendment declares that the jurisdiction of any public offense not otherwise specially provided for is within the county where it was committed. Although this has always been understood to be the law, the Code seems to contain no express declaration upon the subject. The change consists in the addition, after the words "United States," of the words "and except as herein otherwise provided, the jurisdiction of any public offense is in the county wherein it is committed."

Penal Code—Section 778a: The section is designed to provide for the punishment of persons who in this State do an act culminating in the commission of a crime in another State.

Penal Code—Section 778b: The object of this section is to provide for the punishment of persons who, being out of the State, encourage the commission of crimes within this State, and are afterwards found within this State.

Penal Code—Section 784: The change consists in the substitution of the word "eighteen" for "twenty-five," after "of," in line 15; in the substitution of the word "eighteen" for "sixteen," after "of," in line 17; and in the insertion of the word "brought" in place of "taken," in line 23.

Penal Code—Section 789: The change consists in the insertion of the words "or embezzling," after "stealing," in line 3, and of the words "or embezzled," after the word "stolen," in lines 5 and 7.

SENATE BILL No. 474.

Penal Code—Section 840: The purpose of the amendment is to authorize an officer to arrest without a warrant at night-time for a misdemeanor committed in his presence. The change consists in the addition of the words "except when the offense is committed in the presence of the arresting officer," in lines 7 and 8.

SENATE BILL No. 475.

Penal Code—Section 872: The change consists in the substitution of the word "complaint" for "deposition," in line 6, and in the omission of the words "and committed to the sheriff of the county of blank," at the end of the section.

Penal Code—Section 882: The change consists in the insertion of the words "and such deposition may be used upon the trial of the defendant, except in cases of homicide, under the same condition as mentioned in Section 1345," after the word "discharged," in line 11.

SENATE BILL No. 476.

Penal Code—Sections 907, 908, 909, and 910: These sections purport to authorize the court if an offense is committed during a term of court, but after the grand jury has been discharged, to summon another grand jury. There are now no "terms of court," and any necessity which may arise after one grand jury has been discharged can be met by the drawing of another.

Penal Code—Section 916: This section relates to and defines presentments by grand juries, and, as they no longer have authority to prefer a presentment, the section is superfluous and misleading.

Penal Code—Section 915: The change consists in the omission of the words "either by presentment or," after "court," in line 5. The change is made for the reason that grand juries no longer have authority to prefer presentments.

Penal Code—Section 919: The change consists in the omission of the words "for the purpose of either presentment or indictment," after "charge," in line 3. The change is made because grand juries have no longer authority to prefer presentments.

Penal Code—Section 923: The change consists in the substitution of the word "or," in place of "and," between "willful" and "corrupt," in line 6.

Penal Code—Section 925: The Statute of 1871-2, page 540, authorizing the grand jury or district attorney to require the attendance of an interpreter, is codified in the last sentence, lines 25 to 29.

Penal Code—Sections 931 to 937: These sections compose Chapter IV of Title IV of Part II of the Penal Code. They relate solely to the proceedings after finding a presentment, and since the adoption of the Constitution of 1879 have been inoperative.

SENATE BILL No. 478.

Penal Code—Section 1033: The change consists in the omission of the word "first," after "pending," in line 4, and of the words "where the action is pending. Second—On the application of the district attorney on the ground that from any cause no jury can be obtained for the trial of the defendant in the county where the action is pending," after "county," in line 6, the provision relative to a change of the place of trial in a criminal action on application of the district attorney having been held unconstitutional in People vs. Powell, 87 Cal. 348.

Penal Code—Section 1034: The design of the amendment is to conform this section to the proposed amendment to the last section. The change consists in the insertion of the words "for removal," after "application," in line 3; in the omission of the words "or of the district attorney, as the case may be," after "defendant," in line 4; in the insertion of the word "district," after "the," in line 5; in the omission of the words "of the adverse party," after "attorney," in line 6, and the insertion after "application," in line 7, of the sentence "At the hearing the district attorney may serve and file such counter affidavits as he may deem advisable."

SENATE BILL No. 479.

Penal Code—Section 1103: This section is composed of matter taken from Section 1968 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Penal Code—Section 1108: The amendment consists in the substitution of the word "eighteen" for "twenty-five," in line 6. The purpose is to conform the section to the provisions of Section 266.

Penal Code—Section 1110: The amendment consists in the insertion of the word "labor" before "money," in line 6, and in the substitution of the words "or property, whether real or personal," in place of "personal property," in lines 6 and 7, thus conforming the section to the proposed amendment to Section 532. (Senate Bill No. 458.)

SENATE BILL No. 480.

Penal Code—Section 1147: The change consists in the omission of the words "at the same or another term," after "tried," in line 8, because there are now no terms of court.

SENATE BILL No. 481.

Penal Code—Sections 1171 and 1174: The design of the amendment to these sections is to bring about as far as possible an avoidance of the delay now so common in getting criminal cases to a hearing in the Supreme Court, and to require bills of exceptions in criminal cases to be settled as expeditiously as is compatible with the circumstances of the case. The phraseology of the present section is changed in certain respects to more clearly express its purpose. The clerk is required upon receipt of the draft to note such receipt thereon; and the judge, upon receipt thereof, is required to immediately designate a time for settlement and have the parties notified thereof, if not present. The time so fixed cannot be changed for the convenience of a party, except upon good cause shown by affidavit.

Penal Code—Section 1176: The purpose of this amendment is to correct imperfections and confusion in the language of the present section, and to more clearly point out the duty of the judge in noting his action upon instructions requested by the parties.

SENATE BILL No. 482.

Penal Code—Section 1182: The change consists in the addition of the words "and the order granting or denying the same must be immediately entered by the clerk in the minutes" after "judgment" in line 4, and is designed to conform the section to the present practice.

SENATE BILL No. 483.

Penal Code—Section 1185: The change consists in the addition of the words "when determined, the order must be immediately entered by the clerk in the minutes," after "judgment," in line 11, and is designed to conform this section to the present practice.

Penal Code—Section 1186: See note to last section.

Penal Code—Section 1187: The purpose of this amendment is to give the same effect to an order of the court made on its own motion under Section 1186, as Section 1187 now gives to an order made on motion of the defendant.

SENATE BILL No. 484.

Penal Code—Section 1191: The change consists in the omission of the words "if the court intend to remain in session so long; but if not, then at as remote a time as can reasonably be allowed," after "verdict," in line 8, because the courts are always open.

Penal Code—Section 1201: The change consists in the substitution of the words "a State hospital for the care and treatment of the insane" for "lunatic asylum," after "to," in line 9.

Penal Code—Section 1206: The amendment makes the section applicable whether the fine was imposed with or without the alternative of imprisonment. (See People vs. Brown, 113 Cal. 35.)

Penal Code—Section 1207: The design of the amendment is to conform the section to the proposed amendment to Section 1176 (See Senate Bill No. 481). To effect this the words "and the certified transcript of the charge of the court" are inserted after "thereon," in line 13.

SENATE BILL No. 485.

Penal Code—Section 1214: The amendment makes the rule of the section applicable though the punishment include imprisonment as well as fine. (See People vs. Brown, 113 Cal. 35.)

Penal Code—Section 1221: The amendment is designed to permit the warden to act without procuring the concurrence of the judge of the superior court, and requires the district attorney to act upon the suggestion of the warden by filing a petition and taking proceedings thereunder to ascertain whether the defendant is insane.

Penal Code—Section 1222: The change consists in the substitution of the word "hearing" for "inquisition," in line 3.

Penal Code—Section 1223: The amendment requires the verdict to be entered upon the minutes, and the court to thereupon enter an order for the confinement of the defendant in a hospital if he is found to be insane.

Penal Code—Section 1224: The amendment provides for the action to be taken when the defendant recovers his reason, and consists in striking out all of the words following "execution," line 6, and in substituting new provisions in lieu thereof, lines 6 to 13.

Penal Code—Section 1225: The amendment conforms the section to the proposed change in Section 1221.

Penal Code—Section 1226: The change consists in the insertion of the words "certified copy of the finding and certificate" (lines 6 and 7), and of the addition of the provision relative to the Governor's issuing his warrant upon receiving a certificate from the warden (lines 7 to 10).

Penal Code—Section 1227: The change consists in the addition of the last sentence (lines 14 to 16), which provides that no appeal can be taken from the order fixing the time for the execution of the judgment.

SENATE BILL No. 486.

Penal Code—Section 1235: The amendment is designed to make the section conform to Article VI, Section 4, of the Constitution, which provides that the Supreme Court has jurisdiction "in all criminal cases prosecuted by indictment or information in a court of record, on questions of law alone," it having been held (in People vs. Jordan, 65 Cal. 644) that it has jurisdiction in all such cases and that if its jurisdiction by appeal is restricted to cases of felony, it would devolve upon it to establish some appropriate system of appellate procedure by which it could review all other convictions based upon an indictment or information.

Penal Code—Section 1238: The change consists in the omission of Subdivision 6, because the court cannot make the order therein referred to, its action being limited to advising the jury to acquit, and if this advice is followed, an appeal is necessarily unavailing because a defendant after his acquittal cannot be placed upon trial. (See People vs. Stoll, 28 Cal. Dec., p. 22.)

Penal Code—Section 1240: The change consists in the omission of the words "or filed," after "entered," in line 4.

Penal Code—Section 1241: The change consists in the insertion of the words "by affidavit filed therein," after "thereof," in line 5, the present section being entirely silent respecting the mode of proof.

Penal Code—Section 1245: The change consists in the insertion of the words "the execution of the" before "judgment," in line 4.

Penal Code—Section 1246: The design of the amendment is to require a copy of the opinion of the Supreme Court to be certified to and sent to the clerk of the court below with the remittitur. The change consists in the insertion of the words "with a copy of the opinion of the court attached thereto," after "entry," in line 5.

SENATE BILL No. 487.

Penal Code—Section 1305: The words "within twenty days after such entry in the minutes" are substituted for the words "before the final judgment of the court," after "time," in line 10.

Penal Code—Section 1306: The amendment is designed to conform the section to the proposed amendment to Section 1305, and the change consists in the substitution of the words "twenty days from the entry upon the minutes, as provided in the last section" for the words "the adjournment of the court," after the word "after," in line 4.

Penal Code—Section 1307: The change consists in the insertion of the words "at the end of thirty days, unless the court has before that time discharged the forfeiture," in place of the words "immediately after the adjournment of the court," in lines 6 and 7.

SENATE BILL No. 488.

Penal Code—Sections 1335, 1336, 1337, 1338, 1339, 1340, and 1341: By the amendment to the above sections, the provisions of the statute respecting the conditional examination of witnesses have been extended so far as may be constitutionally done, to the end that the prosecution, except in cases of homicide, may have the same privilege as the accused of taking conditionally the testimony of witnesses who are about to leave the State or who are so sick and infirm as to afford reasonable grounds for apprehending that they will be unable to attend the trial. The proposed change is within the contemplation of that part of Section 13, of Article I of the Constitution, which provides that "the Legislature shall have power to provide for the taking, in the presence of the party accused and his counsel, of depositions of witnesses in criminal cases, other than cases of homicide, when there is reason to believe that the witness, from inability or other cause, will not attend the trial."

SENATE BILL No. 489.

Penal Code—Section 1370: The change consists in the substitution of the words "a State hospital for the care and treatment of the insane," in the place of "insane asylum," in line 8.

Penal Code—Section 1372: The change consists in the substitution of the words "State hospital" for "asylum," in lines 7 and 8.

Penal Code—Section 1373: The change consists in the substitution of the words "State hospital" for "asylum," in lines 3 and 4.

SENATE BILL No. 490.

Penal Code—Section 1388: The change consists in the insertion of the words "of a minor," after "prosecution," in line 4, and the insertion of the word "the" before "custody," in line 22.

SENATE BILL No. 491.

Penal Code—Section 1390: The change consists in the substitution of the word "complaint" for "information or presentment," in line 3.

Penal Code—Section 1391: The change consists in the substitution of the word "complaint" for "presentment," in line 10.

SENATE BILL No. 492.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following message from His Excellency, Governor George C. Pardee, was read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
SACRAMENTO, February 20, 1905. }

To the Assembly of the State of California:

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor respectfully to return Assembly Bill No. 54—"An Act to amend Section 1457 of the Penal Code of the State of California, relating to the disposition of fines collected in police and justices' courts"—without my signature, for the following reason: It appears, from a careful reading of the bill, that it may be possible, even probable, that, were this bill to become a law, certain fines and forfeitures now turned into the funds of the Fish and Game Commission would be covered into city or town treasuries. As the funds at the disposal of the Fish and Game Commission are, even with these fines and forfeitures, hardly sufficient to properly conduct the affairs of the commission, and as it was not the intention of the author of the measure to deprive the Fish and Game Commission of these very necessary revenues, I have, with the author's full knowledge and consent, withheld my signature.

I am informed that in place of this measure there has been introduced into the Legislature another bill containing the same provisions as those contained in Assembly Bill No. 54, but also expressly exempting from its provisions the fines and forfeitures which, at present, go to the Fish and Game Commission.

I respectfully recommend to the Legislature the passage of the new measure.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

GEO. C. PARDEE, Governor.

The message was ordered printed in the Journal and placed on the unfinished business file for further consideration.

TIME FOR RECESS EXTENDED.

Mr. Treadwell, at twelve o'clock and twenty-nine minutes P. M., moved that the hour for recess be extended for five minutes.

Motion carried.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following messages from His Excellency, Governor George C. Pardee, were read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
SACRAMENTO, February 20, 1905. }

To the Assembly of the State of California:

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor respectfully to return Assembly Bill No. 55—"An Act to amend Section 1570 of the Penal Code of the State of California, relating to the disposition of fines and forfeitures"—without my approval, for the following reason: It appears, from a careful reading of the bill, that it may be possible, even probable, that, were this bill to become a law, certain fines and forfeitures now turned into the funds of the Fish and Game Commission would be covered into city or town treasuries. As the funds at the disposal of the Fish and Game Commission are, even with these fines and forfeitures, hardly sufficient to properly conduct the affairs of the commission, and as it was not the intention of the author of the measure to deprive the Fish and Game Commission of these very necessary revenues, I have, with the author's full knowledge and consent, withheld my signature.

I am informed that in place of this measure there has been introduced into the Legislature another bill containing the same provisions as those contained in Assembly Bill No. 55, but also expressly exempting from its provisions the fines and forfeitures which, at present, go to the Fish and Game Commission.

I respectfully recommend to the Legislature the passage of the new measure.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

GEO. C. PARDEE, Governor.

The message was ordered read, and placed on the unfinished business file for further consideration.

Also:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
SACRAMENTO, February 20, 1905.

To the Assembly of the State of California:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that I have approved Assembly Bill No. 281—An Act to amend the Political Code by adding thereto a new section, to be numbered 421, relating to watchmen employed in the State Capitol and for the Governor's Mansion, and providing for their salaries.

Also: Assembly Bill No. 215—An Act to repeal Section 8 of the Civil Code and to amend Section 9 thereof, both relating to holidays.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

GEO. C. PARDEE, Governor.

The message was ordered printed in the Journal.

Also:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
SACRAMENTO, February 20, 1905.

To the Assembly of the State of California:

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor respectfully to return to your honorable body, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 227—An Act to amend Section 1 of an Act entitled "An Act to provide for the burial of ex-Union soldiers, sailors, and marines in this State who may hereafter die without leaving sufficient means to defray funeral expenses," approved March 15, 1889, relating to the burial of soldiers who served in the war with Spain and in the Philippine insurrections—for the following reason:

It appears to me to be plain that the results desired to be obtained by Assembly Bill No. 227 are already provided for in the Act of 1889, as amended in 1901.

In this regard, it is but fair to say that the author of Assembly Bill No. 227, Mr. Speaker Prescott, upon having his attention called to the fact recited above, freely acquiesced in the opinion that the said bill is unnecessary and, therefore, ought not to become a law.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

GEO. C. PARDEE, Governor.

The message was ordered printed in the Journal, and placed on unfinished business file for further consideration.

RESOLUTION—(OUT OF ORDER).

Mr. Lumley was granted leave to introduce the following resolution (out of order):

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, February 20, 1905.

To the Assembly of the State of California:

I hereby tender my resignation as committee clerk to date from this day, and request that the same be accepted at once.

SPECIAL ORDERS.

This being the time set for the consideration of special order—the report of the special committee on resolutions relative to the charge of contempt against A. A. Taylor of the Santa Cruz “Surf”—the same was called up.

Mr. McCartney submitted the following communication, which was read:

COMMUNICATION FROM THE EDITOR OF THE SANTA CRUZ “SURF.”

SANTA CRUZ, CAL., February 20, 1905.

To F. C. PRESCOTT, Speaker of the Assembly, and Members of the House:

GENTLEMEN: The undersigned is resting under resolutions of censure from your honorable body, and in expectation of being cited before you to receive punishment for alleged contempt.

These resolutions recite that the Santa Cruz “Surf” has published articles containing allegations and insinuations relative to Messrs. McCartney, Atkinson, Beardslee, Lumley, and Burke, members of the special committee appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly to investigate and report on the charges made against the Hon. Lucas F. Smith, Judge of the Superior Court of the County of Santa Cruz, State of California, which were unwarrantable, and intended to disturb the due and orderly course of said investigation, by impugning the motives of said investigation, ridiculing the members of the committee before the people of Santa Cruz and the entire State, and discrediting any report the committee may make, and that thereby A. A. Taylor has affronted the dignity of, and placed himself in contempt of, this Assembly.

This action you have taken without giving the editor any opportunity to “show cause,” or to disprove your conclusions, which are absolutely erroneous.

You have selected the Santa Cruz “Surf” as the one paper in the whole State as subject to legislative censure, and held up its editor as the only journalist in the State as guilty of violating the true ethics of journalism.

You proclaim as a fact, to be spread throughout the State, to mar the reputation and injure the business of said journalist, what is merely an unfounded suspicion on your part.

This action has been based on a news item in the “Surf,” when this committee was announced, that its chairman was a “reliable programmer,” and it was presumed the balance of the committee was similarly selected.

This statement in the “Surf” involved neither ridicule nor an affront to these gentlemen, and was not so understood among the “Surf’s” constituency. It did not imply any lack of personal integrity, or impute unworthy motives to the members of this committee. To make no mistake about this, the “Surf” stated subsequently:

“To politicians it is not necessary to explain the meaning of this term. According to the dictionary, it could be no reflection upon a person to call him a ‘programmer.’ It would simply be an absurdity. The term is a part of the political slang of the day, very expressive when rightly understood, otherwise meaningless. Nationally, there are two kinds of Republicans—those who favor a revision of the tariff, and those who do not. Those opposed are known as ‘standpatters,’ and it is no reflection on a Congressman to call him a ‘standpatter,’ although it is known that protected trusts are back of that position.

“In this State there are two kinds of Republicans—those who take orders from the ‘organization,’ and those who do not. Those who do, are known as ‘programmers,’ although it does not necessarily imply turpitude. The majority of the present Legislature is composed of ‘programmers.’ They are governed in their attitude on public measures by instructions coming through the State committee, or the county committee, or some trusted party leader.

“When members of a legislative committee were referred to in the ‘Surf’ as ‘programmers,’ it meant that they belonged to that ‘wing’ of the party. We do not apprehend that any of these gentlemen have been approached or influenced concerning the Smith case.”

We note a Stockton paper observes: “Assemblyman Beardslee of this city (one of the committee) is a ‘programmer,’ in the sense that he is loyal to his friends, and is an ardent supporter of the Republican ‘organization,’ but he is not the kind of man who can be swerved from his ideas of justice by extraneous influences.”

This is precisely what the “Surf” supposed was true, and it never intended to “allege,” or “insinuate,” anything different.

Allusions to the entertainment of the committee in the “Surf” of February 10 were designed to cauterize a certain local movement, and conveyed to local readers no reflection upon the personnel of the committee. The utterances of the “Surf” are made to a local audience, and ought to be so construed.

This committee has visited Santa Cruz, and held the investigation, the "due and orderly course of which" was in nowise interfered with. Although probably ninety-five per cent of those who attended had read the alleged "allegations and insinuations," the committee found the utmost respect and deference shown to them, and the "Surf" was prompt to express approbation of the dignity and the equity with which the hearing was conducted.

If called before your honorable body to receive punishment for this alleged contempt, I shall not retract, or recant, or apologize, but simply show to all right-minded persons that the Santa Cruz "Surf" has not transgressed the limits of legitimate newsmongering and editorial criticism.

I believe it is but rudimentary justice that this communication should be read before the Assembly and published in the Journal.

Respectfully yours,

ARTHUR A. TAYLOR.

RESOLUTIONS INDEFINITELY POSTPONED.

Mr. McCartney moved to indefinitely postpone the further consideration of the resolutions relative to A. A. Taylor of the Santa Cruz "Surf," to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt.

Motion carried.
